

School board approves March bond election

By Don Green

The Chaffey Joint Union High School District Board of Trustees has approved a resolution placing a $23.2 million bond issue for a new high school in Rancho Cucamonga and renovation at Chaffey High School on the March 7 ballot.

The board formally adopted the ballot resolution Monday calling for a 41-cent tax increase per $100 assessed property valuation in the district serving Ontario, Upland, Montclair and Rancho Cucamonga.

Superintendent Mike Dirksen explained Monday's action at the special meeting followed review of ballot language by the district counsel. He said formal action was needed on the resolution Monday despite board approval of its substance Dec. 5.

At that meeting, Dirksen presented the board with two alternatives for the March 7 measure: funding for the new school alone or for the new high school and work at Chaffey High School in Ontario.

Of the $23,193,560 sought, $3,973,130 would go toward adding heating and air conditioning and other renovation at North and South halls on the Chaffey campus.

The remainder — $19,220,430 — would build a new high school in Rancho Cucamonga. The superintendent said the high school would accommodate 1,800 students when doors are expected to open in late 1980, if the measure is approved.

He added that the high school would be laid out to accommodate 2,500 with the addition of another classroom building if future growth warrants expansion.

The new high school would relieve overcrowding at Alta Loma High School, where more than 2,400 students now attend facilities originally designed to house 1,500 students.

The school uses 20 relocatable classrooms and holds two classes in the cafeteria for its burgeoning enrollment.

Principal David Campbell has indicated the school will begin an extended school day next semester, which starts Jan. 30.

Under the new scheduling, freshmen will attend school 10:30 a.m.-4:30 p.m., while other students will go to class 7:30 a.m.-1:30 p.m., he said.

On Nov. 21, the board adopted a resolution of intention to exchange 40 acres of district land in north Upland for 54 acres owned by the Lewis Development Co. south of Base Line Road and west of the planned extension of Milliken Avenue in Rancho Cucamonga.

Three appraisers — one each selected by the county superintendent of schools, the district and the firm — are evaluating the properties.

Dirksen said the district no longer needs its land between 21st and 22nd streets in north Upland for a new school. He said he hoped the Upland land would bring the district money in addition to the Rancho Cucamonga acreage for a new high school.

The March 7 ballot measure — unlike votes on conventional school bonds — will require only a majority vote to pass. A two-thirds vote is needed for general obligation bonds.

If the measure is approved, the district would finance the new high school and Chaffey renovation through a lease-purchase arrangement with a private company.

In addition to providing heating and air conditioning for North and South halls at Chaffey High, a successful bond measure would finance elevators, enclosing of stair wells and carpeting for the two buildings.

Dirksen noted North and South halls front Euclid Avenue in Ontario and said much of the proposed renovation stemmed from the "horrendous noise" when windows are open.

He said air conditioning, drop ceilings for heating and air-conditioning equipment and carpets will help the acoustics of the two buildings.

The superintendent pointed out the elevators and enclosed stair wells are required to bring the buildings up to safety standards.

The ballot measure would raise the district tax rate from its current $2.21 per $100 assessed valuation (including bond redemptions) to $2.61, a tax increase of 18.6 percent.

Dirksen said that while the tax increase would apply through the school year 2002-2003, only about half the 41 cents would be assessed the first two years after passage.

He noted that under the lease-purchase arrangement the district would not begin paying for the new high school until its occupancy, expected in late 1980.

Dirksen said that ironically the tax rate for 1976-77 was $2.62 until higher assessments, changes in school financing formulas and district restraint on spending led to the lower $2.21 rate.

The full 41-cent increase would mean an extra $61.50 on the annual tax bill for the owner of a home assessed at $60,000.

Dirksen said the district cost estimates included escalation factors for the various times portions of the bond issue would go to bid.

He added that if the measure passed, work on the Chaffey renovation would be done during summer 1978.

At the Dec. 5 meeting, the board of trustees dropped consideration of authorizing a poll of what district residents believe school needs to be.

The district lacked sufficient time to commission the poll and then consider its findings before drawing up the ballot measure.

Trustees have discussed hiring a public relations consultant to help make the case for the bond measure, but the board has reached no final decision on a contract.

FOOTBALL TOURNAMENT — Jim Lewis centers football to Brant Sturgeon while Dennis Robertson prepares to go down field for a pass as the Upland residents prepare for the three-man pass completion tournament sponsored by the Upland Recreation Department. Competition will be held Saturday at the Upland High School football field for contestants 19 years and older. The competition continues Dec. 27 for players 10-13 years old and Dec. 28 for those 14-18 years old. All team entry forms must be turned in no later than noon Friday at the recreation department, 123 E. D St. A fee will be charged. (Photo by Don Green)

Santa Claus Inc. volunteers prepare Christmas for 4,000 needy youngsters

Like North Pole elves, volunteers at Santa Claus, Inc., in Ontario are busy preparing for the organization's annual distribution of presents to needy youngsters.

Some 700 dolls are seated on grandstand rows and hobby horses and baby carriages are hung from the ceiling, awaiting distribution next week to children from an area covering Ontario, Upland, Montclair and Rancho Cucamonga.

This year marks the 22nd Christmas for the volunteer workshop.

Clara Melton, president of the board, said, "There are literally hundreds of people who help the organization make Christmas a memorable time each year for the children of the West End."

Mrs. Melton is one of three charter members still active in the organization. The other two are Esther Aanstad, secretary-directory, and Irene Elliott, knitting chairwoman.

Mrs. Aanstad estimated 500 persons attended open house last Sunday at the workshop, 1330 E. D St., Ontario.

Some 4,000 children from more than 1,200 families will each receive two toys, a new outfit of clothes, candy, a book and a "stocking stuffer" this year.

The Salvation Army, San Bernardino County Public Social Services Department and county nurses screen recipients to ensure only needy youths receive the gifts. Local teachers assist in the actual distribution of the presents to parents.

More than 1,500 individuals, clubs, organizations and businesses contribute time and money, according to Santa Claus, Inc. All work is volunteered, and funds are used to purchase supplies and support the building.

Countless hours of repairing and sewing are necessary before the toys and games can be shelved and clothing racked.

Ruth Stewart, chairwoman for boys' clothing, and her mother, Opal Wallbaum, cut 600 pairs of pants and 2,000 shirts that were sewn by Chaffey College power sewing classes under the direction of Libby Bacjer.

Mrs. Elliott was responsible for 150 hand-knit sweaters.

Evelyn Werkman, girls' sewing chairwoman, and Erfa Hansell, Helen Hively, Marcella Klein and Dorothy McKean helped make 2,000 new outfits.

Gertrude Tuttle makes sure 1,000 games and stocking stuffers are ready. Mike Scheidt repairs 100 bicycles annually and Graydon Kuhns has coordinated workshop activities and repaired wheeled toys for 14 years.

Betty and Bob Durkee repair dolls and toys, prepare doll houses and make doll house furniture. Nina Haynes, chairwoman for dolls, makes doll clothing and dressed 100 dolls this year.

Ed Bordenkircher and Manuel Rodriguez directed toy collections through the schools and will oversee distribution by West End teachers.

Other individuals who contributed many hours of work are: Bill Wright, Arthur Crawshaw, John Genger, Irene McLaugh, Earl Molitor, Ed Solari, Carol Hench, Edna Cox, Scotty Clark, Melba Sachs, Toni Parrilla, Margaret Sachs and Elizabeth Fleck.

Goal: search for religious roots

Presbyterian youth sell Christmas trees

By Don Green

Thirteen young members of the First Presbyterian Church of Upland are selling Christmas trees in hopes of finding roots of a different sort next summer in Switzerland.

Proceeds from tree sales in the parking lot on the north side of Foothill Boulevard just east of Euclid Avenue will go toward a 22-day trip to Switzerland, where the youths will study the foundation of the Presbyterian faith.

The Rev. Robert Flagg of the First Presbyterian Church said the 13 members of the Global Villagers youth group along with five adults will be guests of a congregation in Berne.

During its stay in Switzerland next August, the group will visit Zurich, Berne, Geneva and Zermelt.

Flagg explained that the youths will be seeing the roots of the Presbyterian faith tracing back to John Calvin and the 16th century Reformation.

John Richardson, a junior at Upland High School and member of the Global Villagers, said the youth group has been saving three years toward the $18,000 trip.

In addition to the tree sale, Flagg said the group sponsors an ecology lot at Second Avenue and Stowell Street in Upland, holds rummage sales, pancake breakfasts and car washes and performs odd jobs.

The members of the Global

Villagers are high school juniors and seniors who meet in weekly study sessions, go on retreats and lead worship, according to Richardson.

The Rev. Mark Bollwinkel, a United Methodist minister from Berkeley and a student at the School of Theology at Claremont, is the group's adviser.

Bollwinkel served an internship at the First Presbyterian Church in 1975-76 while studying at Claremont and has been the group's adviser ever since.

Flagg said the Global Villagers signed a covenant that they would work and study toward the trip to Switzerland. He said the project requires dedication from the youths, but added that the goal is worthwhile.

"For most of them the trip is a one-time chance for a while," he said.

Flagg, his wife, Marcia, Mark and Bonnie Bollwinkel and church member Richard Taylor will accompany the high school students on the trip.

Parents are helping the group meet its goal. Richardson's father, Ian, acts as advisor for the tree sales.

Flagg said the Global Villagers were about two-thirds the way toward reaching their fund-raising goal when sale of some 600 available trees began last week. Sales continue at the site 8 a.m.-10 p.m. through Dec. 22.

Past youth groups at the First Presbyterian Church have traveled to the Island of Iona, Scotland, Covington Cathedral in England, the Taizé Brotherhood in France and throughout Germany, according to Flagg.

He said he did not know of any other local church whose youths make similar trips abroad.

He noted that during summer 1976 the Global Villagers installed a solar heater at a Presbyterian-sponsored community center in Alamosa, Colo. Members performed other community services during their stay, Flagg added.

Flagg said the group's stay in Switzerland will also be a working vacation. He explained that the Global Villagers plan to repair and paint a youth hostel.

He said the trip represents a culmination of church school activities for the youths.

Richardson added that for many church activities began with Sunday school as youngsters.

Flagg said the youth groups formally break up upon graduation from high school but the members' involvement with the church continues.

He noted that Taylor, one of five church advisors who will travel with the Global Villagers, made a similar trip as a teen-ager to England in 1975.

The Switzerland trip requires understanding among the 18 travelers and working out rules of conduct, Flagg said. He noted the youths have been studying language, historical background and religious culture in preparation for the trip.

Flagg said the youth group provides systematic sharing and studying of the faith, in addition to acting as a basis for "community building."

Richardson added that the youth group has strengthened its members' view of family life and of themselves.

Council race attracts five

Five candidates for City Council had taken out nomination papers as of Tuesday afternoon.

Mayor Pro Tem John McCarthy, 1069 Mesa Court, and Councilwoman Ina Petokas, 1104 Shannon St., have taken out papers for re-election.

Their seats along with the council post held by Hal Bailin are up for election March 7.

Bailin said Tuesday he has decided not to seek re-election. He said personal reasons and time away from his profession led to his decision. Bailin is an attorney.

Three challengers who have taken out nomination papers are:

— Edward R. Donnelly, leasing manager with Vanguard Leasing Systems Inc. in Rancho Cucamonga, of 1222 Edgewood Lane.

— Frances P. Randau, housewife, of 886 N. Euclid Ave.

— Charles M. Segaloff, a political science and pre-law student at the University of California, Riverside, of 240 W. 23rd St.

The deadline for taking out nomination papers is noon Dec. 29.

TREE SALES — Shelley Frink of the First Presbyterian Church of Upland Global Villagers youth group holds one of some 600 trees available for sale at the organization's lot on the north side of Foothill Boulevard just east of Euclid Avenue in Upland. Proceeds from the tree sales will go toward financing a group trip next August to Switzerland, where the 13 members of the Global Villagers will study the roots of the Presbyterian faith. City council hearings

The Upland City Council will meet 7 p.m. Monday at city hall, 460 N. Euclid Ave. The council is scheduled to hold an informal public hearing on the proposed revision of the Memorial Park master plan.

Other public hearings include:

— A request for a conditional-use permit for a 40-unit townhouse development on 2.8 acres on the north side of Ninth Street and the south side of Diamond Court.

— A request for a conditional-use permit to allow commercial office use at a service station at the southwest corner of Ninth Street and Mountain Avenue. The applicant is appealing a denial by the Upland Planning Commission.

— A text amendment to Upland's codes regarding the number of members and duties and powers of the Upland Architectural Commission.

Congressmobile

The "congressmobile" of Rep. Jim Lloyd will be in the employees' parking lot east of Upland City Hall, 460 N. Euclid Ave., 10 a.m.-noon and at the shopping center at Mountain Avenue and 16th Street 1-3 p.m. Monday.

Staff members will be available to hear comments on legislative issues and to help residents with problems involving federal agencies.

Northwest plan

The Upland Planning Commission will meet 7:30 p.m. Tuesday at city hall, 460 N. Euclid Ave. The commission is scheduled to consider a proposed general-plan amendment and environmental-assessment report on the 814-acre northwest planning area.

A public hearing will be held on a plan to divide the northwest acreage into two portions, allowing a maximum density of four residential units per acre on land in the eastern part of the area and three units per acre with a "density bonus" in the west.

The commission will also hold a public hearing on the environmental-assessment report for the city's drought-relief project. With federal funds, the city plans to lay 17,800 feet of pipe for blending water and to reactivate a well on Campus Avenue just north of the San Bernardino Freeway.

Christmas concert

Upland High School will hold its annual Christmas concert 7:30-9 tonight in the school auditorium. The concert will feature the high school band, a cappella choir, vocal ensemble, harmony chorus and girls' chorus. Gregg Sisk, instrumental music instructor, and Carl Walters, vocal music instructor, will be the directors. Admission is free.

Christmas letters

The Cucamonga - Alta Loma Junior Women's Club is serving as a local mail forwarding agency for West End children writing to Santa Claus. Elke Lopez, club president, reported that letters should be addressed to Santa Claus, Post Office Box AL, Cucamonga, 91730, for special handling by the Juniors. A self-addressed, stamped envelope should be enclosed to ensure a prompt reply. Letters should be mailed no later than Sunday.

Women's class

Chaffey College is offering a program in college and career opportunities for women during the winter quarter starting Jan. 3. The course for women interested in returning to school will be held 10 a.m.-noon Mondays. Students not already registered may do so Jan. 3-10 at the college.

Calico Rompers

The Calico Rompers Square Dance Club will hold a square dance for class members and guests 8-11 p.m. Friday at Serrano Junior High School, 4725 San Jose St., Montclair. Club officers for 1978 will be introduced. Round of the month will be taught 7:30-8 p.m. All square dancers are invited.

Mental health

The West Valley Mental Health Association will meet 7 p.m. tonight at Ontario City Library, 215 E. C St. Discussion will include new mental health services in the West End and goals of the association. Membership is open to the public and persons interested in mental health issues and services are invited.

Children's books

A children's library operated by Claremont Graduate School has issued its annual booklet "Children's Books for Holiday Giving." This year's edition includes titles of 88 books considered to be worthy of giving to children. The books are not sold at the library, but the booklet contains information on where the books may be purchased. The center also has a basic list of good children's books for parents starting a child's library and a list of books for parents of very young children. The booklet and lists may be obtained by writing the George C. Stone Center for Children's Books, Claremont Graduate School, Claremont, 91711.

Hi-Steppers

The Hi-Steppers Square Dance Club will hold a square dance 8-11 p.m. Saturday at Serrano Junior High School, 4725 San Jose St., Montclair. The round of the month will be taught 7:30-8 p.m. The guest caller will be Louise Trauger. All square dancers are invited to attend.

Transportation

The Kellogg West Center of Continuing Education, 3801 W. Temple Ave., Pomona, is offering a certificate program in transportation studies. The center — associated with California State Polytechnic University, Pomona — is one of five state campuses to offer the program in cooperation with the California Department of Transportation. The program is designed primarily for administrators, planners, engineers and others in the transportation field who need to gain a broader understanding of the entire transportation process. The first course in the series will begin in January at the department of transportation office in San Bernardino. For more information, call (714) 598-4392.

Graduate studies

State graduate fellowship applications are available for the 1978-79 competition through the Ontario office of local state Sen. Ruben Ayala. About 400 fellowships are offered for the 1978-79 academic year. State fellows will be selected on the basis of test scores, undergraduate grades, personal disadvantages and financial need evaluation requiring submission of information on parents' finances. The fellowships are in the amount of tuition and/or required fees at any graduate or professional school located in California and accredited by the Western Association of Schools and Colleges or the California State Bar. Fellowships are only available to those students who have not completed more than four quarters or three semesters of graduate study prior to Oct. 1, 1978. The deadline is Feb. 6, 1978. For applications or further information, call Ayala's office, 982-3566.

Calendar sale

Ronald McDonald coloring calendars are on sale at all 225 McDonald's Restaurants in Southern California. Proceeds from the sale of the calendars will be presented to the Southern California Children's Cancer Services Inc., to help build a Ronald McDonald House for families of cancer patients at Children's Hospital of Los Angeles. Since the Children's Hospital of Los Angeles is the main center for treatment of childhood cancer for residents from the San Joaquin Valley to Orange County, as well as for western Nevada and Arizona, there is a severe need for housing for families traveling great distances to be with their children during these critical times.

LOCALLY OPERATED DONREY MEDIA GROUP

Single parents provide adult, family events

Members of Pomona Valley Single Parents note there is no need for divorced or widowed parents and their children to be lonely during the holiday season.

The single parents group is a nonprofit organization which provides social and recreational activities every day of the month for single parents and their families.

Plans include adult social and educational activities, teen activity groups, and family recreational events.

Single parents are not required to have custody of their children to participate, but a record of filing for divorce should be on record with the county recorder.

For information on Pomona Valley Single Parents activities call (714) 622-7877.

Girl Scouts raising funds for activities

Girl Scouts in Montclair are in the midst of a fund-raising drive to help finance the activities of 250 girls active in the Montclair area.

It costs $35 a year to support one girl in the scouting program, explained Barbara Sanders, a Montclair troop leader. The West End United Way supplies a portion of the needed money, the rest comes in donations and through the scouts' own fund-raising efforts. The scouts' latest event was a bazaar.

Donations to the scouting program are tax deductible. Mrs. Sanders noted. Information about contributions may be obtained by contacting Janice Wold, 624-1711.

Girl Scouts produce new joint handbook

The first major program changes in Girl Scouting since 1963 are currently being introduced to all girls ages 6 through 11 within Spanish Trails Girl Scout Council, it has been announced by Patricia W. Newton, council president.

"Worlds to Explore" is a new combined handbook for Brownie and Junior Girl Scouts and has been published by Girl Scouts of the United States of America with an initial printing of one and a half million copies. While it contains many new activities for today's and tomorrow's world, it also retains much that is familiar and traditional in Girl Scouting. In addition to the format, the chief innovations within the handbook's 400 illustrated pages, are projects for youngsters in the fields of science and technology, and the treatment of a career, as well as the home, as a natural part of a women's life.

The new combined handbook has six sections: an introduction to Girl Scouting and five "Worlds to Explore" — World of Well-Being, World of People, World of Today and Tomorrow, World of the Arts and World of the Out-of-Doors. Each chapter offers a broad range of activities. Unlike previous handbooks, girls can choose activities according to interests and abilities rather than age level.

The World of the Out-of-Doors section expands on the traditional Girl Scouting involvement with camping, nature and conservation. Because, for example, girls are doing more at a younger age, for the first time Brownies are encouraged to go troop camping. There is greater emphasis on ecology and understanding of the environment — the living space that surrounds one — whether it's on a farm, in an apartment, a house or mobile home.

In the World of Today and Tomorrow chapter, the youngsters are introduced to the metric system, to carpentry, in addition to simple scientific experiments, and insights into what the future can hold for them as working women. World of the Arts includes activities in the whole range of arts, visual, performing and literary.

Activities in the World of Well-Being chapter highlight physical and emotional health, nutrition, the home, safety and consumer awareness among many other topics.

Caltrans proposes Foothill Freeway plans

By PETER WONG

To no one's surprise, the California Department of Transportation (Caltrans) has formally recommended that the Foothill Freeway extension through Upland and Alta Loma be removed from the state's master plan for highways.

In a letter written last week in response to a number of inquiries about the freeway's status, Heinz Heckeroth, Caltrans assistant director for highways, said:

"After careful consideration of the many changed conditions since the original decision for the freeway was made some 20 years ago, it is the Department of Transportation's position to recommend against development of a freeway in the corridor."

The contents of the letter were disclosed Wednesday at a meeting of the governing board of the San Bernardino Associated Governments, San Bernardino County's transportation planning board, which has supported the freeway.

Before the freeway route can be removed from the state's master plan for highways, however, hearings must be held by the California Highway Commission, or after Feb. 1, the California Transportation Commission.

"It is true that the uncertainty surrounding the Route 30 (Foothill Freeway) corridor needs to be eliminated at an early date At this time, the matter has not been scheduled for a specific meeting," Heckeroth said in his letter.

The freeway would stretch 28.3 miles from La Verne through Claremont, Upland and Alta Loma to the Devore Freeway and east to San Bernardino. Its construction would cost an estimated $119.3 million, or if extended only to the Devore Freeway, $60 million.

Reaction to the Caltrans recommendation was predictable — freeway supporters disapproved of it, and opponents took heart.

"We kind of anticipated that this would be the recommendation It's been the attitude up there (in Sacramento) for the last couple of years," Tony Malone, administrator of the Foothill Freeway Association, said Wednesday.

Referring to Adriana Gianturco, the Caltrans director who generally has opposed adding more freeways, Malone said, "All of us have been aware she would take that attitude She's not concerned about what greater problems it (deletion) would cause."

Upland City Engineer Fred Blanchard said Caltrans' recommendation promises at least two things.

Blanchard, who is coordinating a task force that is drafting a report which will spell out the precise impacts if the freeway route is deleted, said the state may finally come up with alternatives to solve the area's traffic problems, "and more than anything else, a decision."

Upland Councilwoman Ina Petokas, a leading opponent of the freeway, said the issue is entirely in the hands of state officials.

"It makes no difference what I say, what Hal Bailin (Upland council member and freeway association president) says or what anybody here says," Mrs. Petokas said. "The cities decided a long time ago they wanted the freeway, and we still don't have it."

Freeway supporters must decide whether to take their chances with the lameduck California Highway Commission, which they prefer, or the new California Transportation Commission to retain the route.

The highway commission has two more meetings, Dec. 15 and Jan. 19, and Wes McDaniel, executive director of the San Bernardino Associated Governments, thinks three votes would be cast in favor of the route — enough to block Caltrans' recommendation.

"The department knows that, too," McDaniel said. "But with the new commission, who knows?"

Malone, who is also executive vice president of the Upland Chamber of Commerce, said, "If she (Ms. Gianturco) had her ducks lined up, she would have put it on the agenda already."

"We do well with seasoned commissioners," added Supervisors' Chairman Robert O. Townsend, this year's SANBAG president. "But by the time we educate the commissioners to our point of view, they're no longer commissioners."

Whatever commission finally makes the decision is expected to hear a presentation from the local task force of city engineers and public works directors in cities along the freeway corridor — La Verne, Claremont, Upland and Rancho Cucamonga, the latter being represented by the county transportation department.

The task force is being aided by L.D. King Engineering Co. of Ontario and Urbanomics, the Claremont firm that prepared a 1972 study in favor of the freeway. The report is expected to be in draft form early next week and completed by Dec. 16.

Blanchard said he doesn't believe officials at Caltrans headquarters in Sacramento understand the serious traffic problems that would result if the Foothill Freeway were deleted. He hopes the report might do that.

Blanchard said he himself would not insist on the construction of a freeway if the state can come up with alternative proposals to relieve traffic problems, "so that the communities along the route are not left dangling."

POT SALE — Terry Shanks, a senior art student at Montclair High School, examines some of the pots which will be sold at the school's art sale 11:30 a.m. to 12:30

Seniors plan marina trip

Trips for senior citizens are being planned this month by the Ontario Recreation Department.

A trip is planned for seniors this month to Marina Del Rey to view the Pageant of Christmas Boats. The fee for this trip will cover transportation. Dinner will be at individual expense at the El Dorito Restaurant, where reservations have been made to view the boat pageant. Registration should be paid by Dec. 16 at the Ontario Recreation Department.

Bus pick-ups will be at 2 p.m. at the Recreation Department and 2:15 at Colony Park. Expected return time is 9 p.m.

For further information on either trip, call 986-1151, extension 242.

Study to decide recreation uses

SAN BERNARDINO—Forest Supervisor Doug MacWilliams has announced that an extensive 12-month study is now under way to determine the overall recreational potential of the San Bernardino National Forest and to develop a comprehensive forest-wide recreation plan. Earlier this year, Congresswoman Shirley N. Pettis contacted California Regional Forester Doug Leisz urging that the Forest Service undertake a study of the San Bernardino National Forest in order to help fill some of the recreation deficit in Southern California. As a result, a one-year contract for the project has been awarded to Kammeyer Lynch & Partners, Inc., an Irvine-based environmental planning firm. Assisting in the study are Alfred Gobar Associates, Inc. of Brea, Aerial Information Systems of Crestline, and Environmental Systems Research Institute located in Redlands.

In close proximity to several major urban areas, the San Bernardino National Forest receives more visitor-use per year than any forest in the national forest system. As population continues to increase in Southern California, the demand for additional recreational opportunities is expected to rise significantly. In an effort to insure that the San Bernardino National Forest will be able to provide a broad range of opportunities in the future, the "Wildland Recreation Study" will identify the needs of a full spectrum of potential forest users (including senior citizens, minorities and handicapped persons).

Parents should know about health program

The San Bernardino County Health Department is attempting to let every parent in the West End know about the Child Health and Disability Prevention Program.

Called CHDP for short, it is a state-mandated program designed to "prevent serious health problems in children through early and periodic health check-ups," explained Elissa Antonich, acting deputy director for the county's CHDP program.

"Since many disabling health problems go undetected, the state legislature requires all first graders to present a health certificate to their school, signed by a doctor, stating that they received a health check-up. Parents who do not want their children to participate in this program have the option of signing a waiver," Mrs. Antonich explained.

A CHDP health assessment must include a health history, a physical and dental examination, vision and hearing tests, tuberculin, hemoglobin and urine tests and necessary immunizations, she noted.

Last year, the health department screened 11,558 children in San Bernardino County. Of these, 15 per cent were referred to physicians for further diagnostic treatment or follow-up services, Mrs. Antonich said.

Local parents interested in taking part in the CHDP program may call the health department office in Ontario at 988-1312 or stop by the office at 325 E. C St., Ontario.

How to save for retirement without taxing yourself.

With IRA. If your employer doesn't offer a retirement program, you can start saving for it now anyway. With an Individual Retirement Account.

With it, you can deposit up to $1,500 or 15% of your wages each year (whichever is less) in an interest earning account. And it's all tax-free... even the interest... until you withdraw the funds at age 59½ or later.

What's more, when you're ready to retire, you may receive payment in installments or a lump sum. Either way, you'll probably pay less in taxes.

So for complete information, call or drop by the Santa Fe Federal office nearest you. Just do it soon — and stop taxing yourself.

With Keogh. There's also a special tax-free way to retire if you're self-employed, which includes sole proprietors, partnerships and a wide variety of professionals.

In essence, the Keogh Plan allows you to contribute annually up to $7,500 or 15% of your earned income (whichever is less). And it's all tax-free, including the earned interest, until you retire between the ages of 59½ and 70½. And, like the IRA, you may elect to receive payment in one sum or in installments. For a lower tax bite all the way around.

For complete information, contact the Santa Fe Federal office nearest you. And start setting aside a lot of security for your future.

Old friends are worth more.

Art awards

Five Alta Loma High School students won prizes in an art contest held recently by the Cucamonga - Alta Loma Woman's Club.

Junior Joan Pieter received $100 for a pen and ink drawing, "Bird on a Perch," named best art work of the show. Senior Joe Vecchio won first prize of $50 for a painting titled "Indian Hunter."

Second - place winner junior Beau Henderson received $25, and third prize was shared by senior Jonda Martin and sophomore Cheryl Austin, who shared $15.

Henderson and Jack Cornett received honorable mention. All prize recipients are students in Mrs. Dale Hansen's art class at the high school.

Pledge

John H. Kalbach of Upland has been pledged at Lambda Chi Alpha fraternity at Oregon State University.

Honor

Lisa Conrad of Alta Loma was honored for her work as a senior scout member of the committee on "Tomorrow's Woman in Public Relations" at the recent recognition dinner of the Spanish Trails Girl Scout Council.

Rotary

Dan Maher, Ron Erickson, Chuck Althouse, Art Bridge, George Renworth and Lee Travers of the Upland Rotary Club recently attended the organization's district conference on leadership, community service and club organization in Pasadena.

Eagle scout

Ronald Paul DesMarais of Upland recently received his Eagle Scout award from Boy Scout Troop 402. DesMarais, son of Mr. and Mrs. Paul DesMarais, has earned 38 merit badges.

Rabbits

Six members of the Foothill Farmers 4-H Rabbit Division won first - place honors at the recent Glendusa Santa Anita Ranger 4-H rabbit and cavy show in Monrovia.

Kim Russi, Lisa Douglas, Debbie Stone, Kelly Teenor, Mary Contino and Judy Stone all took top honors.

School honors

Jim Vinatieri and Brad Althouse, both of Upland, have been named Eagle Scouts. The two are members of Upland Boy Scout troop 623.

Jim is a junior at Upland High School. He is a sports enthusiast and a stamp and coin collector.

Brad is an Upland High School graduate and plans to attend college. He has completed flight training for a private pilot's license and hopes to continue in commercial aviation.

Both have been in the scouting program more than eight years.

Master's degree

Robert W. Thom II of Cucamonga earned a master of fine arts degree this fall from the University of Kansas at Lawrence. Thom's studies included a concentration in ceramics.

Bronze cross

Larry Brisky of Upland has been presented the Legion of Valor Bronze Cross for Achievement in recognition of his scholastic excellence in military and academic subjects.

The award is one of the highest ROTC honors nationwide. Brisky is an ROTC cadet at Claremont Men's College, Claremont.

Traci Miller of Upland won a Camp Fire Girls art competition with a coil pot bird's nest with hand - molded glazed eggs.

The 9 - year - old placed first in the Adventure level at the Mt. San Antonio Council art fair. Her work, along with two others from the council, will be sent to national Camp Fire Girls competition in Kansas City, Mo. in early January.

School awards

Jim Minutello, senior, and Barbara Morrison, business education instructor, were selected to represent Upland High School as outstanding student and teacher at the annual recognition dinner sponsored by the San Bernardino - Riverside Counties Industry Education Council.

During his four years at Upland High School, Minutello has been involved in a wide variety of school activities while carrying a 3.54 grade point average. As a freshman he was on the honor roll, a member of the football team, and a student council representative. As a sophomore he was on the honor roll, a track letterman, class representative, "most valuable lineman" on the football team, and the United Nations Pilgrimage for Youth Contest Runner-Up 1976. His junior year he was a track letterman.

Jim, son of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Minutello of 1056 Coronado Ave., Upland, plans to attend the University of Southern California or Cal Poly and possibly major in business.

Barbara Morrison is now in her eleventh year at Upland High School in the Business Education Department. She has taught shorthand, beginning and advanced typing, notehand, accounting, office occupations, general business and job skills. She is currently the business department chairperson and is teaching notehand, advanced typing, job skills and office occupations-all classes are individualized and taught under the variable credit grading system.

Morrison has been instrumental in developing learning materials (for the California Business Education Program Guide) which have been used by other schools in the state and which are currently being used in the Upland High School Job Skills classes.

Health News ...

If You've Had An Accident Stop, Think and Act Wisely

By Dr. Wes Helzer, D.C.

Whiplash neck injuries are among the nation's fastest growing health problems. Why?

The ever increasing number of automobiles rolling onto our congested streets and highways, the mass migration to the suburbs, and increased speed of our freeway systems, power brakes and more powerful engines all contribute to the growing frequency of the type of accident that can result in whiplash injuries.

But in one sense, a whiplash can be a blessing in disguise.

You see, a whiplash is by its very nature a problem for the modern Doctor of Chiropractic. He best understands the whiplash injury and is best equipped to cope with it. Consequently we see many new faces who visit us because of our reputation in dealing with whiplash.

In our examination and care of these people we often discover that whiplash is but one of their problems.

Don't misunderstand me, the whiplash is in itself a most serious injury that can cause arthritis, migraine headaches, extreme nervousness, or many other problems.

This, of course, means that the whiplash injury cannot be left untreated. It will only be that "blessing in disguise" if the person who sustains the whiplash comes in for a thorough examination and is treated effectively.

If our preliminary exam reveals the presence of pressure on the nerves in the upper part of the spine and the possible displacement of vertebrae we know that a condition can respond to the proper effective treatment.

I might add, that after the first effective treatment, it is not uncommon that a whiplash sufferer will have a first restful sleep since an accident.

Every accident victim should have a thorough modern chiropractic examination.

It is indeed apparent that a person who has had an accident owes it to himself and his family to have an examination to find out for sure. Since every health problem has a cause it's obvious that the cause must be found before a person will get well.

(Note: Dr. Helzer maintains chiropractic offices at 108 East H Street, Ontario, telephone: 983-1711. (C) ARS 1974

Upland corner being modified

Modification of a major traffic intersection near San Antonio Community Hospital in Upland has begun.

When the project is completed it should improve traffic flow and safety around the hospital, Assistant City Engineer Victor Ehrlich says.

The engineering department has described the current intersections of Arrow Highway, San Bernardino Road and Ninth Avenue as hazardous.

The improvement project has four basic elements:

— Traffic will flow non-stop from Arrow Highway east to San Bernardino Road, where the hospital is located, and through to Foothill Boulevard in Cucamonga. It will flow nonstop from San Bernardino Road west to Arrow Highway.

Ninth Avenue and Arrow Highway will be realigned to form T-shaped intersections with San Bernardino Road.

— Cuts will be made in San Bernardino Road so that buses can load and unload passengers without blocking other traffic.

— Drainage basins will be installed at Ninth Avenue and San Bernardino Road, at the hospital's southwest corner.

— New landscaping will serve as the hospital's gateway from the west. The hospital staff will maintain the landscaping.

Kershaw Construction Co., which has been awarded the $85,000 contract, is expected to complete work on the road realignments and storm drain installations first, then do the landscaping, Ehrlich said.

Alta Loma High students learn about careers, job incentives

The Alta Loma High School Career Center, under the direction of Marian Cochran, keeps students busy learning about careers and participating in many career oriented programs.

Mrs. Eva Hurtado, spoke recently to the foreign language classes concerning the possibility of becoming an interpreter. Interpreting as a career was explained to students of Maria Rodriguez, Juan Vasquez, Bea Zita, and Judith Rosenberg.

Using this as incentive, Mrs. Mary Lou Conroy, president of the medical assistants group and an employee of Dr. Donald Huber in Pomona, spoke during first and second periods to students of Bob Ewing and Bob Durio. Accounting and Business Law students had an opportunity to hear firsthand how their knowledge and skills can fit into the medical assistance program. Mrs. Conroy was on campus on Wednesday, Nov. 23.

On Monday, Mrs. Mary Ellen Hill, Learning Assistants Teacher, took her students to Chaffey College to tour the Learning Center. Students saw firsthand the workings of this helpful aid at the college level.

Mrs. Cochran is busy planning similar activities for the following school months. Anyone interested in participating in such a program may contact Mrs. Cochran by calling 987-2582 during school hours.

SHOES AND YOUR CHILDREN....

Pre-Fit Analysis For Child's Shoes

by Harold Berk

Exactly what should happen when you go into a shoe store and buy shoes for your child?

How much service should you expect? Well, you can run the gamut from inexpensive, self-service shoes at the discount store to getting the full attention of a professional shoe fitter in a store that specializes in the care of children's feet.

Price is probably your best determinant in analyzing the service you should get.

The in-store process consists of three specific activities: (1) the pre-fitting analysis, (2) foot measurement, and (3) shoe fitting.

Being able to recognize that a fitter has accomplished all three gives assurance that your child has received all the service that should go with your purchase of quality shoes.

You'll note that the professional shoe fitter carefully inspects your child's old shoes. He's not particularly looking for size, although this might be a consideration in understanding a given situation.

The shoe fitter inspects the old shoes primarily to get a better understanding of how your child wears his shoes. In this way, the fitter can often make recommendations that will provide a better shoe product for your child's feet.

The pre-fitting analysis might include many points—such as style, shoe value required, utility, and others.

Not the least of these other factors is the possibility that a child may have a foot problem. While a competent shoe fitter will not offer suggestions as to diagnosis or treatment of a foot problem, he can be of assistance in helping you seek proper professional advice on the child's foot problem.

It is vital that a shoe fitter make this careful analysis before he moves on to measuring your child's feet and actually trying shoes on.

All too often, shoe fitters fail to give enough attention to understand your reasons for buying shoes for your child or to the special differences of your child's feet.

Some stores might consider this an extra service, but you should demand it.

Business News Briefs

Food service

Marine PFC Kenneth B. Hindman, son of Evelyn Hindman of 9999 E. Foothill Blvd., Cucamonga, has completed the Basic Food Service Course.

During the 11-week course at the Marine Corps Base, Camp Lejeune, N.C., students received basic instruction on food preparation, management and service. They studied basic cooking, nutrition, meat carving, menu planning, baking and related kitchen health and sanitation procedures.

He joined the Marine Corps in April.

Past presidents

Approximately 200 physicians and guests gathered at Griswold's Thursday to honor past presidents of the professional medical staff at Kaiser Foundation Hospital in Fontana.

The professional staff president is elected by his or her peers for a one-year term and serves in an administrative capacity representing the doctors.

Physicians honored were: Drs. Edward Loeb, Chester Haug, S. Lloyd Wolters, Felix Bescoby, Dean McCandless, Thomas Sawyers, Theodore Konig, Raymond Wetrich, Guy Hartman, Joseph Rapaport, Lester Stroh and Daniel Brzovic.

Also, Lylal Asay, Herbert Eisen, Samuel Kobrinsky, Raymond Pickering, Crawford Judge, Daniel Devor, Philbin Tackoor, Eduardo Bestard, Jay Slosberg and Bohdan Nickha.

Promotion

Marine Pfc. Russell W. Carlson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Curtis E. Carlson of 7118 Agate, Alta Loma, has been meritoriously promoted to his present rank upon graduation from recruit training at the Marine Corps Recruit Depot, San Diego.

He received the early promotion for his superior performance during all phases of the 11-week training cycle, which emphasized physical conditioning, self-discipline and teamwork.

A 1977 graduate of Alta Loma High School, he joined the Marine Corps in December 1976.

Librarian

Patricia McGrew has been appointed supervising librarian in charge of public services at the Upland Public Library. She replaces Linda Yao, who was appointed library director.

Ms. McGrew earned degrees at the University of California at Los Angeles and San Francisco State University. She worked at the Inglewood Public Library and was assistant librarian at the Blanchard Community Library before joining the Upland library staff.

President

San Bernardino County District Attorney James M. Cramer of Upland has been installed as president of the San Bernardino County Bar Association.

Cramer pledged to expand the bar association's legal aid clinics, Tel-Law program and lawyer referral service.

Raceway

Grand Prix Raceway, 5675 Moreno St., Montclair, recently held its grand opening. Owner Shirley Remple is the first woman in the United States to own and operate a grand prix track.

The raceway offers Formula 1 racing in three- to four-scale racing vehicles on a half-mile track. Business hours are 11 a.m.-11 p.m. Monday - Thursday and 11 a.m.-midnight Friday - Sunday.

Dancer store

Susan B. Powers and Martha J. Smith have opened a new store called Backstage offering clothes and accessories for dancers. The new business is located at 931 W. Foothill Blvd., Upland.

In addition to leotards, shoes and tights, Backstage offers dance posters, note cards, postcards and T-shirts.

Store hours are 10 a.m.-6 p.m. Monday - Thursday, 10 a.m.-9 p.m. Friday, 10 a.m.-6 p.m. Saturday and noon-5 p.m. Sunday.

Bar exam

Six local residents have passed the 1977 fall general bar examinations.

Uplanders successfully passing the exam include Ramon Gomez, Randall Kleinman, Jerry LaCues, John Perry Wade, and Stephen Robert Wade. Karen Bell Bustos of Montclair also passed the exam.

Graduation

Air Force Airman John S. Erickson, son of Thelma Dickey of Alta Loma, has graduated from a Morse systems operator course at Keesler Air Force Base in Mississippi.

Erickson is now skilled in the operation of electronic equipment used to monitor Air Force communication systems and is scheduled to serve at Iraklion Air Station in Greece.

The airman earned credits toward an associate degree in applied science through the Community College of the Air Force. Erickson is a 1975 graduate of Alta Loma High School.

Realtor

Realtor W.M. Schultz has joined The Gallery of Homes, Inc., an international residential real estate network. His firm operates under the name Exclusive Gallery of Homes, 396 S. Euclid Ave., Upland.

New staff

Dr. Gary J. Voorman has announced that the mental health center, which has its headquarters in Upland, has made several additions to the professional staff and is adding to the already large number of psychiatric and psychological services provided.

Voorman noted that the clinic currently employs nine psychiatrists, 10 psychologists, five social workers and three licensed marriage counselors. Adults, children and adolescents are served by the Clinic, which has offices in Upland, Chino, Covina and Claremont.

In order to meet a community need more efficiently, Dr. Voorman announced the appointment of Dr. Dan Smith, who will be available to interview patients on an emergency basis. The Clinic will continue to provide emergency phone call services on a 24-hour basis. Dr. Smith, who comes to the Clinic from the Christian Home Association of Council Bluffs, Iowa, will provide immediate attention to the patients whose crisis or acute upset will not allow for a "regularly scheduled" intake appointment.

Pets: joy and responsibility

By Robert L. Stear, D.V.M.
Manager of Veterinary Services
Norden Laboratories

Owning a pet is one of the most enjoyable and rewarding experiences you can have. It's also a great responsibility.

Many veterinarians and humane movement officials say there has been a decline in the sense of responsibility of some pet owners in recent years, which has resulted in the present pet animal population explosion and frequently, in needless cruelty to animals.

Responsibility for these unwanted or mistreated animals rests, to a large extent, with a community's humane society. There are about 1,000 of these organizations across the country which are chartered by local or state governments to take action in cases of animal abuse and neglect.

In Pennsylvania, for example, the Pennsylvania Society for Prevention of Cruelty to Animals operates many shelters, and its agents can work anywhere within the state. Several Pennsylvania counties have also granted policing powers to smaller humane associations to work strictly within county borders. The Pennsylvania organization is similar to most other states.

Complaints about treatment of animals can be made directly to these chartered organizations — either by phone, by letter or in person. When a complaint is received, a representative is sent to investigate the situation. In many cases, the neglect is determined to be unintentional, and a warning to the pet owners is sufficient to remedy the situation.

If not, the inspector can return with a search - and - seize warrant granted by a court and remove the animal. The organization can also bring charges against an individual responsible for the mistreatment, and the individual can be tried in court, with a fine or other punishment levied.

The vast majority of violations discovered are for relatively minor offenses such as improper caging of otherwise healthy animals. Very few cases are prosecuted in court, partly because individuals who witness violations are sometimes reluctant to come forward to testify.

Each humane organization is funded differently, and this has a direct bearing on its ability to act. If a humane society chooses to go to court to reprimand a repeat offender, it must pay not only the cost of legal counsel but also for the time its agents spend in court. A single lawsuit may be very costly — most costly, for example, than several months of emergency ambulance visits.

Because of the pet population explosion, most animal welfare organizations and their cooperating veterinarians spend the majority of their time and money housing animals, providing good animal health care, and arranging for adoptions.

These organizations urge pet owners to spay all cats and dogs that are not part of an organized breeding program. This allows the pet owner to maintain only those pets he or she can properly care for and reduces the number of unwanted, uncared for strays. The community humane shelter and the veterinarian share a common purpose in preserving the life, health and general well-being of animals of all kinds.

Each has a special task in the field of animal welfare: the veterinarian diagnosing and prescribing treatment; the humane shelter working for the protection, relief and comfort of the animals.

How to keep the keys clean

A piano or home organ can be a priceless family treasure, and special care should be given to cleaning the keys, according to Leslie Wood, consumer information specialist. Most leading manufacturers use plastic keyboards today and generally a mild cleaner can be used for effective cleaning. A mild cleaner of this type will not cause yellowing of plastic or the ivory keys of an older piano, as do ammonia and other harsh cleaning solutions.

Health Tips

Infant whiplash serious

EDITOR'S NOTE: Health Tips is a column of the California Medical Education and Research Foundation, prepared and edited by physician members of the California Medical Association. It is reprinted by this newspaper as a public service.

In the past few years a newly recognized injury to children has been identified and described. This injury is known by several names, the most common of which is "infant whiplash syndrome." This is a serious injury, and the results can be devastating.

Most of the time infant whiplash syndrome occurs when adults, frustrated and angry with children, shake them strenuously. Most people are not aware how seriously this can hurt a child. Children have been hurt at other times also, such as in play and in car accidents. It has happened when anxious adults try to wake up a child who is unconscious after a fall or convulsion.

Young infants have very weak neck muscles and only gradually develop the strength to control their heavy heads. If they are shaken, their heads wobble rapidly back and forth. The result can be somewhat like — though usually much more severe — what happens to an adult who suffers "whiplash" in a car accident. This back and forth vigorous movement of the head may cause damage to the spinal cord in the neck and bleeding in and on the surface of the brain. Severe damage of this type is most common in very young infants, but it has happened even to 3 and 4-year-olds.

For a long time doctors were not able to recognize the cause of brain bleeding in infants and children hurt in this way because there are usually no outside marks of injury. They saw only the results, most commonly convulsions and severe brain damage, even death. Now this injury is sometimes suspected when infants have signs of brain bleeding without skull fracture.

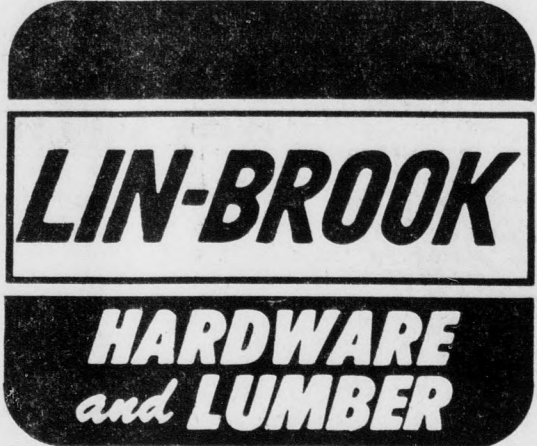

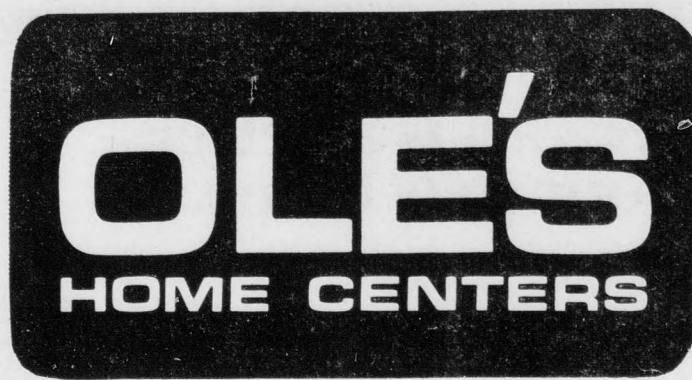

It is very important that parents and other adults know about this kind of injury and not ever shake an infant or child for any reason.

Festival of carols

Choirs of all ages and musical styles will present a Festival of Lessons and Carols 9 and 10:30 a.m. Sunday at Northminster Presbyterian Church. Scriptures of prophecy and the Christmas story will precede carols sung by the Chancel Choir, Gospel Music Choir, high school, junior high school and junior choirs. Of One Accord women's instrumental chorus and the Cherub Choir.

Music ministry

Harry and Joanne Yates will perform 7:30 p.m. Friday at Valley Christian Center, 1404 W. Gladstone St., San Dimas. Joanne is the younger sister of entertainer Johnny Cash. Harry has his doctorate in religious education. They and their children travel throughout the United States singing, and Harry preaches a dynamic message.

Unitarian Society

"Can Armaments Be Curbed?" will be the subject of guest speaker Dr. Richard Burns 10:30 a.m. Sunday at the Unitarian Society of Pomona Valley, 9185 Monte Vista, Montclair. Burns will discuss the history of attempts at arms control and consider what the U.N. Special Assembly on Disarmament in 1978 may accomplish, as well as possible results of the US-USSR bilateral approach to disarmament in the coming year. Burns teaches U.S. diplomatic history at California State University, Los Angeles, and is director of the university's Center for the Study of Armament and Disarmament. Church school classes for children will be held at the same, time, and nursery care will be available.

Family fellowship

All church school classes will meet in the fellowship hall of the La Verne Church of the Brethren for a time of fellowship 9:30 a.m. Sunday. Coffee and nut breads will be served. Persons are asked to bring a Christmas card to share and hang on a special display tree. "A Special Company," a women's choral group, will provide Christmas music.

Minister Leland Wilson will speak at the 10:30 a.m. Sunday worship service. His topic is "Sweat and Toil and Fun and Games." At 5 p.m. Sunday, the sanctuary will be the scene for family Christmas vespers. Participating in the multi-media program will be the children's choir, directed by Deb Gratz, who is also directing a children's interpretive dance group. Junior high youth will dramatize radio voices for the script, "A Very Special Baby." Filmstrips produced by children and soloists will also be featured. Following the vespers, the fellowship commission will serve hot chocolate and popcorn in the fellowship hall.

Nativity pageant

The United Methodist Church of La Verne, 3205 D Street, will present a nativity pageant 6 p.m. Sunday. The musical pageant — with singers, dancers and musicians — was compiled and directed by the church's director of music ministries, Carolyn Schultz. Soloists will include Julie Harris, George Walker, Dorothy Hall, Gloria Taylor, Steve Harris, Stevi Hensick, and Tom Taylor. Kay and Marvin Turner will portray Mary and Joseph. A children's choir will sing. Flutists Paula Boettcher and Kevin Fagerburg and organist-pianist Carolyn Hertz will be the accompanists.

Christian science

"Is the Universe — Including Humans — Evolved by Atomic Force?" is the subject of the Bible lesson-

sermon at all Churches of Christ, Scientist Sunday.

Local church and Sunday school services are: 10 a.m., 1429 N. Euclid Ave., Ontario and 701 W. Harrison Ave., Claremont; 11 a.m., 1665 N. San Antonio Ave., Pomona and 8587 Palomello St., Fontana. The Bible lesson-sermon may be read at any Christian Science Reading Room or heard on radio station XEMO (860) at 6:45 P.M. A Wednesday 8 p.m. church service is held for testimonies of healing. All are welcome to attend the church services and use the reading room, particularly during the Christmas season.

Bethlehem pageant

"A Bethlehem Pageant," a production of the Christmas story, will be presented 6 and 8 p.m. Sunday by the fine arts department of the Valley Community Drive-In Church, Lone Hill Avenue and Covina Boulevard, San Dimas. For reservations call (714) 599-6767. Writer-director Benna Munger is utilizing many available areas of the 10-acre campus of the San Dimas church including the outside stage, the inside lower stage and the balcony. Some of the action will also take place in and from the audience.

Live animals will be used. Seven musical groups and a 30-piece orchestra will furnish the music for the production, directed by Phil Munger, director of music for the drive-in church. A donation of $2.50 per person is asked.

Family party

"Waiting in Faith" will be the sermon 10 a.m. Sunday by the Rev. Victor D. Pentz, pastor of La Verne Heights Presbyterian Church, 1040 Base Line Road, La Verne. A special church family Christmas party is planned 6:30 p.m. Sunday featuring special music and small-group participation in presenting the story of Jesus' birth through various media. Each family is asked to bring a plate of holiday cookies to share and each person a white-wrapped can or package of food for the deacon's emergency food shelf.

Etiwanda church

The Fontana Baptist Temple is the newest church in Etiwanda next to the post office at 7611 Etiwanda Ave. The work was begun in Fontana by Pastor Kenneth Bates in July. He is a 1977 graduate of Pacific Coast Baptist Bible College of San Dimas. "I had always felt that God wanted us in the Cucamonga-Etiwanda area, so when the opportunity to rent the court house building came, we moved immediately." The church was in Fontana just one month.

By August services were being held in the new building. Sunday morning worship is at 10 a.m. and Wednesday evening Bible study meets at 7:30 P.M. Preparations are being made for a special Christmas Morning Service. The children's Sunday school classes will participate and soloist Ron Maynor will sing favorite selections. Bates will deliver a special Christmas Message. Visitors are invited and welcome.

Funds for world aid

Christmas carols and a knock on the door before Dec. 24 may be a volunteer from the Covina Seventh-day Adventist Church inviting local residents to join in worldwide service.

Behind the Adventist mission to humanity is the concept of humans as physical, mental and spiritual beings. The ministry fostered by Adventists includes not only preaching, but healing the sick; feeding the hungry; clothing the naked; educating children and youth; and disaster relief including immediate help and rebuilding.

This concept of service prompted the Covina church during the past year to hold three stop smoking clinics; aid 352 needy individuals; pack some 60 boxes of clothing and bedding for distribution to world disaster areas; aid Christian Record Braille and camps for the blind; donate a substantial offering to disaster relief; place Listen Magazine in most junior high and high schools, as well as colleges in Covina, West Covina, Walnut, San Dimas and La Verne.

WORLD MINISTRY — A nurse assists a tiny patient at one of the 261 clinics providing service to the needy through the world mission of Seventh-day Adventists.

In addition to on-going care, Adventists support emergency relief in case of disaster.

'Mary Had a Little Lamb' Church offers Christmas play

"Mary Had A Little Lamb," a musical drama by Dan Barker, will be presented 6:30 p.m. Sunday by a cast of 11 people and the three choirs of San Dimas United Methodist Church, 114 W. Second St.

"Children will especially enjoy the costuming and head gear which will depict characters who are the sheep, cow, pig, and camels. Youth and adults will laugh at the humorous lines. Everyone will be inspired and understand the story line that Jesus is the Son of God, and yet himself a lamb," according to Elaine Burn, music director.

Elaine Burn takes the part of Tiny, a small spotted lamb who wonders what is so important about being "unspotted." Sheep friends — Jeanette Carpenter, Denise Cole, and Fran Young — explain that the practice of sacrificing a pure, white lamb is a symbolic event involved in the role of the Messiah, the Lamb of God.

In the stable, the cow, played by Ruth Emry, and the pig, played by Lorri Jansen, manage to adjust to the crowded conditions during the census and taxing, until the arrival of another donkey, played by Jim Shuler, and Mary and Joseph as well. "This is no place for the King to be born," says the worried donkey.

Tiny sleeps through the angels' visit to the shepherds and is awakened by his friends to hear the good news: "The Messiah is here!" They follow the shepherds to Bethlehem where they see the baby Jesus.

The camels later visit the stable. The younger camels, played by Jeff Madaus and Chris Toppenberg, can't make any sense of their "boring" trip just to see a baby. The older camel, played by Dr. Don Toppenberg, explains to them that finding Jesus is to have the world's greatest treasure.

Dr. Ed Burn, pastor, said, "The content of the narrator's part, spoken by Judy Shuler, lifts up the idea that Christmas is the beginning of the life of a man whose purpose was to show us how to love and live forever. We invite the public to enjoy the inspiration of this presentation."

The Cherub Choir is directed by Joyce Burn, the Junior Choir by Jeanette Carpenter; and the Chancel Choir Emily Anderson. Stan Rummel will accompany at the piano; Roger Burn will play the vibraphone. Props were made by Dave Anderson and Don Johnson; and stage assistant is Terri MacDonald. Soloists are Mary Ellen Gridley, and Christy Jansen.

Following the musical the congregation will greet Santa Claus for the annual gift exchange between children, youth, and adults.

As Santa presents a green and red decorated cake made by Vivian Bridgewater, he will lead in singing "Happy Birthday, dear Jesus."

Jan Toppenberg, assisted by several youth, will host the closing festivities as the congregation enjoys a buffet of holiday cakes, cookies, nut breads, a variety of candy, and fruit punch.

Candlelight communion services will be observed at 7:30 and 11 p.m. on Christmas Eve. Ten youth will read scripture passages which relate the birth of Jesus. All present will light individual candles as they form a circle around the sanctuary. A family Christmas service is scheduled 10 a.m. Sunday, Christmas Day.

Glory Chorus to perform

Tonight the Glory Chorus, directed by Jim Lagestee, will present its annual Christmas special, entitled "Your Salvation Comes." The 60 voice choir provides a choral background to the Christmas story depicted by the Ontario Christian Elementary School Drama Club.

A candlelight procession introduces the meeting between Mary and the angel Gabriel. From this point further scenes unfold, depicting the journey of Mary and Joseph to Bethlehem, the birth of Jesus and the shepherds and wise men visiting the manger.

Performance time is 8 p.m. in the 1200 seat sanctuary of the First Baptist Church of Ontario at Fifth Street and Euclid Avenue.

Libraries given subscriptions

Sharon, Chapter of Hadassah has supplied six local libraries with subscriptions to the Hadassah magazine.

Receiving the subscriptions are the Claremont, Pomona, Ontario and Upland Libraries and Honnold Library and School of Theology Library, both in Claremont.

Hadassah is a women's Zionist organization concerned with a just and lasting peace in the Middle East. The Hadassah Medical Organization based, since 1961, in the Hadassah Hebrew University Center, Ein Karem, Jerusalem, was expanded in October of 1975 and reopened as the Hadassah Hospital on Mt. Scopus.

Christmas potluck

Our Savior Lutheran Church of La Verne will hold a fellowship potluck Christmas dinner on Sunday, Dec. 18. In addition to the dinner, the children of the congregation will perform in a special Christmas program, coordinated by Mrs. Ed Busch.

Our Saviour Lutheran Church hold Sunday services 9 a.m. at the La Verne Heights Elementary School, on Base Line Road just east of Wheeler. Sunday school classes for all ages immediately follows the service. For more information on Our Saviour Lutheran Church, contact Pastor Ed Busch, (714) 593-5663 or Billie Sanders, (213) 335-8809.

Christmas cantata

The First Baptist Church Choir of La Verne, under the direction of John Shelton will present the Christmas Cantata "I Believe He's The Son Of God" by John F. Wilson, 7 p.m. Sunday at the church, 2415 Sixth St. Dr. Blake Westmoreland, the pastor, will be the narrator. The public is invited to the free performance.

Anniversary sermon

Santa Ana District Superintendent Fred H. Coots will preach Sunday at Bell Memorial United Methodist Church, on Nogales Street south of Colima Road, Rowland Heights. His visit is part of the congregation's 65th Anniversary Celebration. Dr. Coot's sermon topic is "No Waiting For Christmas."

Other Christmas services at the church include a church school program 7 p.m. Sunday. On Christmas Eve at 7:30 p.m. a festive candlelight service of carols and lessons will be held. A family service 10:30 a.m. Christmas Day will lift up the meaning of gifts at Christmas.

Women aglow

The Walnut Chapter of Women's Aglow Fellowship will meet at 9:30 a.m. Dec. 21 at the Pomona National Golf Course, 20055 Colima Road, Walnut. Reservations are required, by 9 a.m. Monday. The guest speaker is Marie Miller of the West Covina Chapter of Aglow. She will give a Christmas message on "Christ-mas is a Person." The meeting is open to teenagers. For reservations call (213) 333-5417.

Homosexuality a sin habit

Church people who have been asked to either condemn or condone homosexuals are now being given a Christian alternative — a way of recovery — according to William Pruessing, coordinator of The King's Ministries, a Denver-based Episcopal organization claiming 2,000 recovered ex-gays. His recent visit to Claremont was sponsored by the Bloy Episcopal School of Theology.

"Our approach is to treat the gay life-style as a sin-habit, just like any other sin-habit, such as gossip, lying, and adultery," the speaker said.

"We take seriously the scriptures that identify sin and that show how redemption is possible where Christ is accepted. Many of us have experienced this in our own lives," he added.

Stressing that it is important for a gay to realize that one problem is no more to be scorned than another, he noted, "Homosexuality in the scriptures never stands by itself, but is always included in a list."

He cited 1 Corinthians 6:9-11 which speaks of "the immoral, idolaters, homosexuals, thieves, the greedy, drunkards, revilers, robbers." This is important, he says, in convincing the gay person that his or her sin is not necessarily special.

Christ Lutheran

The 8:15 a.m. and 10:45 a.m. worship services will be conducted by the pastor, Dr. A.L. Plueger, Sunday at Christ Lutheran Church, 5500 Francis Ave., Chino. Refreshments will follow both hours. Nursery care is provided, and a children's Bible class is offered during the second service. Sunday parish school will meet at 9:30 a.m. with Bible classes for youths and adults. At 4:00 p.m. the Sunday parish school will present a program entitled, "The Carols of Christmas."

Christmas theme

The Christmas theme will be dominant in the 9:05 and 11:05 a.m. Sunday worship services at the Claremont United Methodist Church as the Rev. Cornish R. Rogers, senior minister, preaches on "A Skyful of Junk." Children will attend the opening portion of the 9:05 a.m. service and then participate in a story-telling session led by Dr. Paul B. Irwin, emeritus professor of Christian education at the School of Theology at Claremont. Dr. Irwin will tell the story, "Why the Chimes Rang."

Between the 9:05 and 11:05 a.m. worship services there will be a Christmas hour fellowship in the round building. All members and friends are urged to bring their favorite Christmas treats to share with others. The event will include a Christmas caroling festival led by Donald Brinegar and Michael Lamkin, with the music enrichment choir and the 5-6 grade handbell choir participating. The church's early morning celebration at 8:00 a.m. will deal with the Advent theme "Anticipation."

Musical presentation

Covina Assembly of God, 418 N. Second St., will present its annual Christmas celebration, Sunday. The church's 100-voice choir, directed by Desmond D. Nelson Jr., minister of music, will present the cantata "Greater is He" 8 a.m. and 10:40 a.m. The presentation features soloists and ensembles. The church's pastor, the Rev. Vernon Nybakken, will narrate the program. Festivities will continue with a special children's program at 6 p.m. All activities will be presented in the church sanctuary and are free to the public.

Indian church

The American Indian Church of the West End and Pomona Valley, 7074 Ramona Ave., Alta Loma, will conduct Sunday worship services at 11 a.m. All tribal members are invited to attend.

Make easy cookie ornaments to decorate Christmas tree

Christmas holiday season seems to bring out the creativity in all of us as well as an even deeper appreciation of our friends and family ties.

Here's an easy and fun way suggested by home economists to involve the entire family in making Christmas tree ornaments as well as fond memories that you'll all treasure for many Christmas holidays to come.

"It's easy and fast," say the home economists, "because instead of baking the bread dough shapes for 30 minutes in a conventional oven, your microwave oven bakes these ornaments in only 3 minutes."

"Let your imagination soar," they say, "you can be as creative as you'd like in making your ornaments." Just use cookie cutters or make your own designs from cardboard patterns — both work equally well.

Everyone can enjoy cutting out their favorite shapes and then painting them to suit their own creative fancy. Just follow the simple step-by-step instructions that the home economists have listed below and you'll be on your way to having a beautifully decorated tree that uniquely expresses Christmas.

Ingredients and Materials
2½ cups All-purpose flour
1 cup Salt
1 cup Water
Cookie cutters or cardboard patterns
Glass pizza plate or plastic microwave plate
Needle and a small straw
Water color paints and lacquer

Yarn, ribbon or ornament hangers
In large mixing bowl, combine all ingredients; flour, salt, water. Mix thoroughly with spoon until all the flour is moistened. Turn dough out on lightly floured surface.

Knead dough until smooth, about 10 minutes. Shape into a ball, then return the dough to the bowl. Keep dough covered with a damp cloth or paper towel until ready to use.

Before using, check the consistency of dough. If dough is sticky, add a small amount of flour. If dough is too stiff, knead in additional water by teaspoons.

Divide dough in half. Keep one-half covered in bowl. Roll half on floured surface to ¼ inch thickness. Cut with cookie cutters or cut around your cardboard pattern. Repeat the process with your remaining dough.

Use excess dough to add 3-dimensional trim to ornaments. Make sure to moisten trim pieces with water and then press trim, moistened side down, firmly to ornament.

Place ornament on ungreased glass pizza plate. Prick in several places with a needle to allow steam to escape. Use a skewer or small drinking straw to make hole in top of ornament for hangers.

Cook at HIGH in microwave oven for 3 minutes, giving dish half turn once. Check to see if ornaments are firm and not wet on bottom. Add more cooking time in 1-minute segments if ornaments are not dry enough. Cool on rack.

Paint ornaments with water colors to make desired designs. When paint is thoroughly dry, spray with lacquer or, for an extra shiny appearance, paint with lacquer.

Insert colored yarn, ribbon, or ornament hangers through the hole in the top of the ornaments. You may use the ornaments to decorate trees, wreaths or holiday packages. This recipe makes about 3 dozen ornaments.

Holiday cheer

Poinsettias dress up homes and offices with holiday cheer in shades of bright red, pink and white. Choose from potted plants or showy hanging baskets and display them for weeks on end. Don't display poinsettias in hot spots like on top of the television. They will last much longer under cool room temperatures. It placed near a window, be sure the leaves and bracts don't touch the very cold window panes.

Select yule poinsettias for display

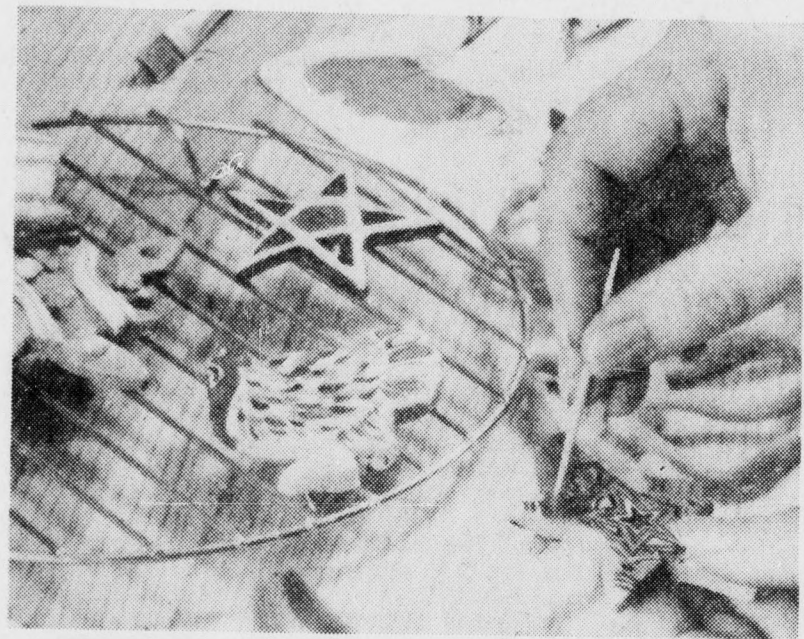

Poinsettias say Merry Christmas right on through the New Year's Day celebrations with their enchantingly colorful bracts of red, white or pink just as vibrant as the day they were brought home. Long lasting poinsettias that keep their color are the result of plant breeders work over several years and two continents. We owe the great show of blooming holiday cheer to California's Ecke family, to the Mikkelsen's of Ohio and to a Norwegian introduction called 'Annette Hegg.' Together they are responsible for the good things that have been happening in the world of poinsettias.

When selecting poinsettias for Christmas display, pick out the ones that appear the bushiest and have healthy dark green leaves. Also look at the flowers surrounded by the good sized colorful bracts to see how mature the flowers are. There should be little or no pollen on the bracts.

Native to sunny Mexico, they like night temperatures around 55-60 degrees F, so locate your poinsettias indoors and where there's lots of light.

Most important when buying any holiday plant is to poke several holes through the decorative foil wrapped around the pot. Piercing the foil will allow for proper drainage after watering.

The water collected in the saucer beneath the pot should be discarded shortly after drainage is completed and always check the soil moisture before re-watering. Water only when the surface soil is dry.

CHRISTMAS ORNAMENTS — It's easy and fun to make Christmas tree ornaments out of cookies. Have a good time with decorations by using watercolors and lacquer. This can be a project for the whole family to become involved in holiday preparations.

How to choose a Christmas tree

'Tis the season to decide on the focal point of holiday decorating — the Christmas tree. Not too many years ago, most people simply chose a cut tree from a Christmas tree lot. Now two other choices have rapidly gained in popularity — cutting a tree on a tree farm and buying a living tree.

According to R. James Laacke, University of California forestry specialist, no matter what kind of tree you get or where you get it, decide first what size you want and where you want to place it. Since it makes a difference as to the symmetry of the tree you will choose, keep in mind whether it will be seen from all sides or whether it will be against a wall or in a corner. The cooperative extension specialist warns against placing the tree near a heater, fireplace or blocking an exit.

Before taking a cut tree or a living tree into the house, hose it off to get rid of dust, spiders or debris that might be hiding in the branches. Let the foliage dry, of course, before decorating.

Laacke advises choosing cut trees as fresh as possible. You can test for freshness by running your finger down a branch or gently shaking the tree. If only a few needles drop off and appear to be firm but not brittle and the tree has a strong fragrance and a good green color, it should last through the holiday season with the proper care.

Recut the stump, he says, when you get it home by taking off about one inch straight across. This will help the tree stand straight in the stand as well as help it absorb water.

Whether you buy your tree already cut or cut it yourself, Laacke advises putting it in water immediately to keep the tree fresh and green and he strongly recommends using a water - container type stand. Since trees can absorb more than a pint of water per day, the container should be filled every day.

Lion Country Safari to get new rides

"Do not open until 1978" say the surprise packages Santa Claus is bringing to Lion Country Safari this Christmas. The surprises, 25-30 of them, are brand new thrill rides, never before experienced on the West Coast, scheduled for construction in Lion Country's Safari Camp entertainment center early in 1978.

The rides originate from all over the world, and have been selected with every member of the family in mind.

Lion Country Safari will continue to offer visitors the exciting and unique drive-through tour of its wildlife preserve for which the park has become world famous. The preserve tour features hundreds of untamed animals roaming freely in their natural habitats, a mere windshield away from safari guests driving along the four-mile trail. Current baby animals in the preserve include zebra colts and young wildebeests, two baby white rhinos, a young eland, a baby chimpanzee, ostrich chicks, and four cheetah cubs. Two lion cubs will be released into the wildlife preserve this month; they were isolated for their own safety until mature enough to join the adult pride.

Admission to the park will continue to include both the tape-cassette narrated tour of the wildlife preserve, and all the attractions, shows, exhibits, and mechanical rides in Safari Camp entertainment center.

CAROLERS — The Calico Carolers will entertain Dec. 19-24 at Knott's Berry Farm. The 24

carolers are from throughout Southern California.

MAMA AND PAPA — One of 14 bottle forms by Andree Mahoney, titled "Mama and Papa" and described as an "androgynous bottle form," is among art work exhibited at the Chaffey College Museum - Gallery. The Faculty 4 exhibit including work by Mahoney, Smith, Wilding, and Grise, continues Friday and Sunday and again Jan. 3-13.

Library shows prints

The Chaffey Community Art Association salutes the Christmas season with a special exhibit of yuletide serigraphs by artist Robert George which will be displayed throughout December in the Garden Room gallery of the Ontario City Library.

The exhibit is a series of silk screen color prints created as Christmas cards by the Claremont artist over the last 20 years. Madonna and child predominate in the multicolored stencil designs.

Included in the showing of religious art will be several non-religious serigraphs as examples of the artist's other silk screen designs. Demonstrations of the processes leading to the finished silk screen product also will be on view.

George has a master's of fine arts degree from Claremont Graduate School.

Wreath kindles responsibility

The Della Robbia is more than a wreath. For 54 years, it's been a tool used to kindle sparks of responsibility in misguided youths.

This year, record 54,000 of the traditional Della Robbia wreaths will be made and mailed from Boy's Republic in China.

The carefully hand-assembled Christmas wreaths mean much more to many of the boys who help put them together than those whose homes they adorn will ever know.

William Gerard, 16, of Long Beach, and Lance Porter, 15, of San Fernando Valley, are just two of the hundreds of youths taking part in production and packaging of the wreaths this year. They say Boy's Republic and participating the wreath program have changed their attitudes, their goals, their convictions and their outlooks on life.

"Me and my parents didn't get along," Gerard said. His mother was left alone to raise four children. "The whole family was going in different directions," he remembered.

Gerard has been at the Chino delinquency prevention facility since 1975. He has worked on wreath production for three years. Before that, "I was always in trouble, getting into fights and into trouble at school. I didn't listen unless I wanted to," he explained.

Although he did like math and physical education in school, "I would have ended up in a camp — you know, I would have stolen more and more and probably would have ended up holding up banks," he said.

Sometimes Gerard stole because he had nothing better to do — sometimes because he needed to. He was in and out of five foster homes and was sent to juvenile hall four times before he was sent to Boy's Republic.

He remembers being very happy in one foster home and probably would have succeeded there, "but my ma wanted me back and I went," he said. That didn't work, so the cycle started all over again.

Sometimes Gerard is bitter toward his mother, sometimes he is sympathetic and sometimes he has no feelings at all.

"Since I've been here, I graduated, I finished school," he said proudly. "I have a lot more friends and a place to call home."

Gerard never had a real job — maybe odds and ends sometimes, but never a job.

When he is making wreaths, "I just get the job done. I hope they turn out good. I enjoy it. If they don't turn out good, I won't feel I did a good job helping make it. I won't feel I did my part. It's important to me to hold up my end of this bargain," he said.

Three or four years ago it would not have mattered "because I didn't even know myself then," he said. Now, Gerard has plans to join the Job Corps in February and enlist in the armed services after that.

"These people have helped me find myself and have helped me find my problems so I could deal with them," Gerard said.

"My mom and dad both cared about me very much. The rest of the family was very tight but I did my own thing. My friends and dope started it all," he explained.

"I didn't care. I never thought about what I was doing. I knew what I was doing wrong but I didn't care," he said.

"I was put in a situation where I had to sit here and evaluate myself and decide whether I wanted to go back to the same thing or change things. I heard stories from other kids about foster homes and placements. I just don't go for that," he explained.

He could have gone to work any time he wanted for one of his father's companies, "but I didn't want it, I didn't take it. This is the first job I really got down and did," he said.

Porter is a supervising councilman in the cottage where he lives. "When I come here and work, I set an example for the others," Porter said.

He explained, "When I was into heavy dope, everybody I hung around with was older, but I was the leader."

Today, he still wants to be a leader, but his goals are different. "Once, I figured drugs were the only thing I wanted to live for. When I came here, I had only time to look at, so I quit. I haven't had any drugs since I came here and it didn't hurt," he said.

Porter will go home soon and his first goal is to finish three years of high school. Then he wants to be a counselor of some type, still shunning the jobs his father has always made available to him, but now with his father's understanding.

WREATH — Boy's Republic resident Lance Porter grabs an armful of prefabricated pod wreaths which will be connected to greens and fresh fruit, painted and packed before being mailed to points throughout the world.

Christmas Eve music to air live

"Christmas Around the World," a one-hour program of live Christmas Eve celebrations from five continents, will be broadcast over the Public Broadcasting Network on Dec. 24. Live transmissions from Bethlehem, Jerusalem, New Zealand, Southern Bavaria, London, the Loire Valley and Jamaica will be broadcast from overseas.

In countries all over the world, viewers will see the South Carolina segment, High Mass at the Church of the Nativity in Bethlehem, the Armenian Christmas Folk Festival at St. James Square in Jerusalem, a Maori dancing Christmas celebration in New Zealand, a German boys' choir singing Christmas carols in southern Bavaria, the British Cathedral Choir singing in Westminster Abbey, musicians playing 17th century music on antique instruments in a chateau in France's Loire Valley and a steel band and dancers performing Christmas folk songs from Jamaica.

Employment

60-Help Wanted

Notice

The following rules apply to class 60 HELP WANTED, effective Sept. 1.

All Help Wanted ads must state nature of work being offered. Example: Sales-work, Secretary, Soliciting, Driver, etc.

Statements of employee
compensation are optional;
however, when any dollar amount is listed, means of compensation must also be stated such as salary, hourly, commission, etc.

Employers who require a fee for equipment, application, registration or training, must so state in their ad.

Ads requiring investment
must run under Class 27
BUSINESS OPPORTUNITIES.

Ads offering training must run under Class 70 EDUCA-TION-INSTRUCTIONS.

Violations of these rules should be brought to the attention of The Classified
Advertising Manager, The Daily Report, 983-3511.

Minor points, easily solved

A Soviet press officer, answering critics who had charged that the Soviet Union had committed gross violations of human rights in its treatment of the Jews, responded, quite seriously, "We let 97 percent of the Jews go. All but those who have something to do with state secrets." For the 2½ million Jews remaining in the Soviet Union, that must be refreshing news.

But, who is to decide which Jews possess state secrets? And what are the criteria? We now present what probably happened at a recent meeting of the Supreme Soviet Society Committee to Settle the Jewish Question. In charge of the committee is Nikolai Banernoff, a man determined to prevent state secrets from leaving the state. Before him approaches his first Jew of the day.

"Ah, Comrade Rachmunis. How are you this fine December morning?"

"Fine, Comrade. Is it not a beautiful December in Moscow?"

"That it is. And now, Comrade, I understand that you are interested in taking a trip to the West. Is that not correct?"

"Yes, Comrade. I wish to take a trip to the West, but I wish to stay there, to leave this country permanently as the Supreme Soviet has so generously allowed all of us Jews to do."

"Comrade Rachmunis, I am disappointed that you would wish to leave all this excellence that we offer. Have we not recently given you a new home?"

"Yes, Comrade. It is, indeed, a fine home. Just the other day, my wife and I and our three children and the family that lives with us were saying how happy we were that the great Soviet people have seen fit to give us a two-bedroom house, so that each family can now have its own bedroom."

"I am pleased to hear that, Comrade. And have we not recently given your family a new car?"

"That, too, we are pleased with. The 1956 Volga is a very fine automobile. I am sure that when we can afford the battery and the tires, we will enjoy it tremendously. But, Comrade, in America they have new cars and everyone has his own house that only one family lives in."

"Bourgeois capitalists! Comrade Rachmunis, do you know why they have new cars? It's because they live so far from each other that they need good cars so they visit their friends. Here in the glorious Soviet Union, we live close together. We are like one family. Is not that glorious?"

"Yes, Comrade. Now that you explain it so clearly, it does make sense to me. But, Comrade—"

"What is it now?"

"The bread—"

"Ah, yes. The bread made by our own farmers. Men and women of the soil who have toiled long days so their comrades can eat the best bread in the world. Indeed, that is a glorious achievement of the Soviet people."

"But, Comrade, on the docks did I not see wheat from American ships?"

"Comrade, we have no use for American wheat. But they insist on sending us all their wheat. They think it will help us like democracy. So in name of detente, we take whatever they send us. But, why, Comrade, do you want to go to West? Their ways of life are decadent and materialistic? There is crime on streets and corruption in government?"

"Comrade, the Soviet Union is not a good place for a Jew. Our synagogues have been closed. Our rabbis are watched every moment. Government officials blame the Jews for every problem. We are denied our rightful places in universities. And when we speak out, we are arrested and thrown into jail or placed in mental institutions. Is not that sufficient reason?"

"Minor points, Comrade Rachmunis. A few minor points. Easily solved. Besides, Comrade, the West also doesn't like Jews. Jews face severe discrimination throughout the decadent West. Just the other day, I read where Nazis in America were putting out contracts on Jews. We have no Nazis in our grand and glorious Soviet Union."

"That may be true, but in the West, we can speak out and defend ourselves."

"Enough of this treason! You cannot go to the West!"

"But the Supreme Soviet says that every Jew who wishes to emigrate to the West can do so."

"That is not quite correct. The Supreme Soviet, under the brilliant leadership of Comrade Brezhnev, said that every Jew who wished to leave the Soviet Union could do so unless he had a state secret."

"But, I am a street sweeper. I have no state secrets."

"Comrade, do you honestly believe that we will allow Jews to go to the decadent West. Do you honestly believe that we would be so stupid that we would allow any Jew to leave the grand and glorious Soviet Union?"

"I do find that hard to believe, Comrade."

"Well, you now know a state secret. We cannot send you to the West. Pity."

And so, one December day, a Jew by the name of Sergei Rachmunis was declared to be insane and sent to a mental hospital somewhere north of Moscow — his state secrets intact.

Government will not send Expo '81 invitations

By STEVE PAPINCHAK

Representatives of foreign nations meeting Wednesday in Paris, France will be told that the United States has no current intention of launching Expo 81 by issuing invitations asking other nations to participate in the event.

Also, the federal staff handling the proposal to stage a World's Fair at Ontario Motor Speedway has recommended that President Jimmy Carter withdraw federal recognition for Expo 81.

Withdrawal of the federal recognition granted one year ago by President Gerald Ford would, in effect, kill Expo 81.

The recommendation to have the federal government withdraw its previous qualified approvals for Expo 81 was not acted upon due to questions raised by Commerce Department attorneys who asked for additional time to study the suggestion.

The federal government's decision to announce in Paris its unwillingness to invite foreign nations to participate in Expo 81 was revealed in a letter from Commerce Secretary Juanita Kreps to Edward W. Scripps II, chairman of the Expo 81 board of directors. The letter was made public today by the U.S. Travel Service, an agency of the Commerce Department.

In the letter, dated Monday, Mrs. Kreps said the Expo 81 Corp. obviously has failed to raise the money needed to conduct the proposed World's Fair, which was to open May 1981.

Mrs. Kreps wrote: "Your presentation did not include evidence that funds necessary to develop the project are now available from the bonding program previously scheduled by you for completion by Nov. 28, or from any other source."

"Furthermore, no firm evidence was presented showing Expo 81 has funds adequate to cover present obligations."

"In view of the above, I have serious concerns about the potential for successful development of Expo 81."

"Accordingly, I shall not recommend that the president issue invitations to the nations of the world to participate in Expo 81 at this time."

"I have instructed the U.S. delegate to the Bureau of International Expositions (the World's Fair sanctioning body) to inform the BIE of my decision," the secretary concluded.

The United States has been under pressure from several nations to issue invitations for any 1981 World's Fair by the current semi-annual meeting of the BIE. The invitations, however, technically can be sent any time before May 1, the deadline, according to the international organization's rules.

Before leaving for Paris, Expo 81 spokesman Jerry Clemans said the organization did not anticipate the invitations being mailed immediately. He did, however, express optimism that the more than $130 million needed to stage an international exposition could be raised by May.

A Commerce Department official familiar with the financial status of Expo 81 said a "miracle" would be needed for the fair organizers to raise the needed funds by May.

There are strong indications that the U.S. Travel Service, which reviews World's Fair applications to assure they meet guidelines set by federal law, would prefer to forget Expo 81.

1978 pageant seeks girls

The 1978 National Little Miss Pageant will be held in Roanoke, Va., from June 22 to 25.

For this fifth annual pageant, a search is now underway to find a contestant to represent the State of California in the contest.

Contestants must be between 5 and 9 years of age. They must be residents of California. No talent is required.

Those interested in entering a contestant may send name, address, age and recent photograph of the youngster to: 4519 Peachtree Drive, N.W., Roanoke, VA., 24017 before deadline of Jan. 30, 1978.

How to start your shop course offered

Should you start your own shop? What's involved in getting started?

What are your chances for success?

Where to locate?

How much money is required and where to get it? These are some of the questions sought answered by persons who would like to own their own fashion shop or boutique.

"How to Start Your Own Fashion Shop or Boutique," a new course scheduled by UCLA Extension in the winter quarter, will focus on answering these questions.

Instructor Marjorie Franzel, consultant, will discuss buying fashion merchandise and evaluating fashion trends. She will also discuss pricing, selling, advertising, laws and regulations. The class will meet Tuesdays, Jan. 3 to March 7, 7 to 9 p.m., in Room 1256 Graduate School of Management, UCLA.

Another course, "Small Business Management Clinic," will include problem-solving sessions on starting and operating a small business. Instructor John R. Barnes says the course will include types of organizations; financing, legal requirements, market research, production and inventory controls, budgeting and records.

Guest speakers will be featured. The class will meet Tuesdays, Jan. 3 to March 21, 7 to 10 p.m., in Room 208 Downtown Center, 1100 S. Grand Ave., Los Angeles.

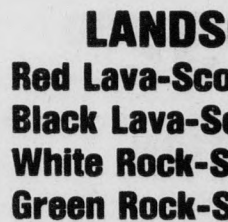

Both courses are offered in cooperation with the Small Business Administration. For more information call (213) 825-7031.

Lack of immunizations threatens many children

By Alan Cranston
Some 20 million children under the age of 14 lack complete immunization against disease. Enactment is needed early next year of improved legislation targeted towards the special health needs of children and for a national health insurance program that would meet the needs of all Americans. Health care is one of five "rights of children." The other rights include the right to a permanent, loving family; the right to protection from harm; the right to nutrition and the right to adequate care and supervision.

The health of millions of children was being neglected. To give you a sample of the kinds of gaps that exist in our present health care system, an HEW Special Task Force on Immunizations has found that out of 52 million children under the age of 14, some 20 million lack complete immunizations against disease. The Congressional Budget Office recently released projections that, among Medicaid-eligible children, over three million were in need of immunizations against disease, over two million were in need of treatment for anemia, and over two million needed care for vision or hearing impairments. Care was not being provided, however, because of a breakdown in a federal health screening program. Many children who need health services have been determined ineligible under existing regulations, many eligible children have not been screened for services, and there has been a failure to provide treatment for health problems uncovered under the screening process. To remedy defects in the screening program a new Child Health Assessment

Program act has been introduced in Congress and should be acted upon next spring. Although many of the 350,000 children in foster-care situations are initially placed in foster care as a "temporary measure," too many find themselves lost in the foster care system, spending years being shipped back and forth from one foster-care home or institution to another. An estimated 100,000 of these children are legally free for adoption but instead have been left in the limbo of foster care. Many of these children are older children, handicapped children, children with brothers or sisters, or children with other factors which have made some individuals regard them as unadoptable. I share the view of many groups and individuals that no child should be regarded as unadoptable and that there are many, many loving parents who want to bring these children into their homes and provide them with love and warmth. Unfortunately, our federal, as well as state laws and policies have in the past hindered, rather than helped, these parents and children.

Because of my own deep concern that the existing barriers and obstacles we have placed between these children and potential parents need to be removed, I introduced in the last two congresses, legislation designed to reduce the barriers for adoption of foster children with special needs and to facilitate their placement in permanent adoptive homes. In October the Senate passed my Adoption Reform Act of 1977. This act is the first step towards eliminating the barriers which stand in the way of finding homes for many, many children locked in the foster-care system. A second piece of foster-care legislation has passed the House and is awaiting Senate Action. That bill — H.R. 7200 — would establish for the first time a program under which federal funds that now go to children in the foster care system would continue to be provided where necessary after a child is adopted. This covers both subsistence and health care payments. For example, under the present law, a handicapped child in foster care is eligible for Medicaid assistance. If that child is adopted, that medical assistance stops. Often families wanting to adopt a handicapped child cannot afford to do so because of the enormous medical costs which are often excluded from private medical insurance coverage as pre-existing conditions. When this new legislation is enacted into law, medical assistance will continue for a handicapped child who is adopted. (Cranston, a Democrat, represents California in the U.S. Senate.)

Job-sharing no bonus for worker, employer

By H.L. "Bill" Richardson
Have you heard how some politicians believe the unemployment problem can be solved? It's very easy they say. People now holding jobs just give up part of their working time, and employers would then have to hire more workers to fill in the gaps. Great! The economy would be better for it, right? The mathematics of job-sharing may look good on paper, but such a scheme totally overlooks the objective of economic endeavors. The purpose of work is to add some sort of good or service to the economy — to fulfill wants and desires — as efficiently as possible. What is the point of having

10 truck drivers do the work of nine? Is output increased? Idling workers just for the sake of "creating" jobs simply lacks common sense. Be that as it may, Senator Mills, president of the Senate, thinks a work-sharing program is worth considering. He outlined his strategy in a recent news release. He said, "Employed persons agree to trade a certain amount of income for some extra time off," and, "to take up the slack created by those persons being off work, the employer hires additional employees." However, Senator Mills says that a worker should not view this as losing job time and pay, but as gaining leisure time. Thus, he has dubbed his suggestion with the sweet term of "leisure-sharing." Let me first ask: Is more leisure time necessarily a gain for someone? Of course not. A worker may have a family to support and may prefer maintaining an income instead of having more free time. Another person may be working as hard as possible to save for a new home. The reasons are endless. The choice between work and leisure is purely a subjective evaluation, and no government planner should dictate what that choice should be. I also wonder, would implementing such a program be as easy as Senator Mills envisions? Should an experienced plumber on a construction job simply drop what he's doing to let a less experienced one finish the job? Wouldn't efficiency suffer? Are all talents equal? Should the most efficient worker share work and pay with someone not as qualified? How about the education field? Many teachers cannot find work. Should we hire all unemployed teachers and cut the wages proportionally? Would a teacher's interest in teaching remain at a high level? Hardly. Senator Mills is looking at individuals merely as bodies that can be plugged into any job with ease, which just isn't so. Any job requires training and experience for a worker to become proficient. Even digging a ditch takes experience. Senator Mills' game of musical chairs would add confusion and costs to the economy — with no increase in output. Senator Mills suffers from a delusion common to governmental planners. He assumes that a given economy has a set number of jobs and that there's only so much work to go around. To the contrary, do you at this moment have all your desires completely satisfied? We have to admit that no one ever has his or her wants totally fulfilled. That's human nature, and infinite wants mean an unlimited demand for work to be done. How then does a person find employment? A worker's output must always cover the cost of employment. An employer can't afford to pay wages that exceed productivity. So, a person must make sure that the pay and fringe benefits do not price his or her services out of the job market. If a person wants to participate in a work-sharing program that is completely voluntary, free from government mandate and pressure, I say fine. Who am I to judge? Senator Mills does say his "leisure-sharing" program should be voluntary, but I wonder if he means that. He suggests that a compulsory program might be preferable to an unemployment rate of 10 percent, or in the event of "economic emergencies." He also wants the taxpayer to finance the increased costs that employers would surely incur in handling a job-sharing program. It looks like Senator Mills is offering us a bureaucratic boondoggle that would be a burden to the economy and create more harm than good. (Richardson, a Republican, represents state Senatorial District 25 which includes La Verne and San Dimas.)

'Good old days'
Remember the "Good old days" when families stayed together and life centered around home and hearth? Well, according to an article in the Dec. 13 Family Circle, the good old days still are doing on. Working with research done by various educators, including Dr. Mary Jo Bane, associate director of the Center for Research on Women and an assistant professor of education at Wellesley College, author Earl C. Gottschalk Jr. comes to an intriguing conclusion: The American family is not very different now than it was 100, or even 200, years ago. Some of the facts Gottschalk uses to back this up are:

Stuff big bird with cornbread

The nip in the air, the warm greetings of family and friends assembled for the feast, the golden harvest - time feeling - it's not quite the same without the traditional turkey and bounteous trimmings.

Today's homemaker wants traditional elegance without having to spend the entire holiday in the kitchen. Surprisingly, the turkey itself may turn out to be the easiest part.

Today's turkeys have 50 percent more meat per bone weight than turkey a few years back. They are so tender, roasting times are about half as long as they used to be. The abundance of white breast meat makes turkeys easier to carve.

Today's turkeys are usually cleaned, inspected, fresh - frozen, and protected by snug, vacuum packed bags. You just thaw, remove neck and giblets from the body cavity, rinse and wipe dry.

Double Treat Stuffing

1 square butter or margarine
1 1/2 cups chopped celery
1 cup minced onion
2 tablespoons minced parsley
1 teaspoon dried sage
2 8-oz. packages cornbread stuffing mix
1 15-16 oz. can cream style corn
In a large skillet, saute celery and onions in butter until transparent. Add parsley and sage, mixing well and cooking for 2 minutes. Mix in cornbread stuffing mix, blending thoroughly. Add corn and mix until moistened.

YIELD: Enough stuffing for 1 14-lb. turkey.

NOTE: Stuffing can be baked in a greased casserole at 350 degrees F. for about 30 minutes.

Gingers Apple Rings

4 tablespoons butter or margarine
4 tablespoons honey
1/2 teaspoon ginger, ground
1/4 teaspoon cinnamon
2 tablespoons lemon juice, freshly squeezed
4 medium apples, unpeeled

(Golden, Delicious, Pippin)

In medium skillet, melt butter or margarine. Add honey, ginger, cinnamon, and lemon juice. Cook for 3 to 5 minutes. Wash, core, and slice apples in 1/2 inch rings. Cook in honey - butter mixture about 4 to 5 minutes, turning twice. Serve with roast turkey as garnish or accompaniment.

YIELD: About 16 apple rings.

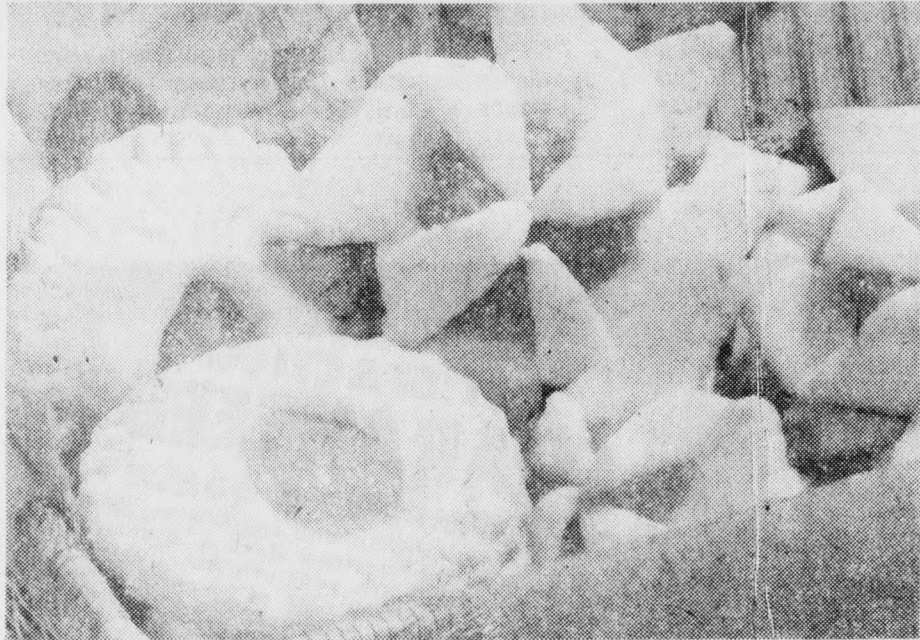

Holiday Pumpkin Tarts

1 1/2 cups milk
1 5/2 oz. package vanilla instant pudding & pie filling
1/4 cups canned pumpkin
1 teaspoon pumpkin pie spice
1 cup prepared whipped topping mix
1/4 cup chopped nuts
8 baked 3" pastry shells, cooled or 1 baked 9" pie shell, cooled
Combine milk, pie filling mix, pumpkin, spice and whipped topping in a deep bowl. Beat at lowest speed of electric mixer for 1 minute. Fold in nuts and dates. Fill tart shells or pie shell.

HOLIDAY DINNER — Just for something a little different this year, why not spruce up the big bird with cornbread stuffing. It's a delicious mixture of cornbread stuffing mix, celery, onions and spices. Top the meal off with Gingers Apple Rings and Holiday Pumpkin Tarts.

GIFT COOKIES — Filled Pineapple Cookies are not the pack-and-mail variety. Deliciously fragile, they should be made within two or three days of eating. Just right as a gift for those special close-by friends. Canned crushed pineapple flavored with orange peel and thickened with cornstarch makes the rich filling for these special cookies.

Filled pineapple cookies make great holiday gifts

Filled Pineapple Cookies are not the pack-and-mail variety, but they are wonderful for serving at home or using as gifts for nearby friends. Deliciously fragile, and pretty to look at, the cookies should be made within two or three days of eating. Just the right recipe to use as gifts for those special close-by friends.

Canned crushed pineapple, flavored with brown sugar and orange peel and thickened, makes the filling for these special cookies. The dough is a semi-rich sugar cookie, ideal for setting off the flavors of the filling.

Make two fancy shapes from the basic recipe. Pinwheels or filled rounds with their centers cut out and slit in the dough to resemble mini-pineapples. Make up a basket of these beauties or fill a decorative gift box to give your hostess during the coming party season.

Filled Pineapple

Cookies
1 (8 1/4 oz.) can crushed pineapple
1/4 cup brown sugar, packed
1 tablespoon cornstarch
1 teaspoon grated orange peel
3/4 cup butter or margarine, softened
2/3 cup sugar
1 large egg
1 teaspoon vanilla
2 1/4 cups sifted all-purpose flour
3/4 teaspoon salt
1/2 teaspoon baking powder

Combine undrained pineapple, brown sugar and cornstarch. Cook over moderate heat, stirring constantly, until thickened. Remove from heat, stir in orange peel and cool. Cream butter, sugar, egg and vanilla together well. Resift flour with salt and baking powder. Stir into creamed mixture. Cover and chill dough thoroughly. On lightly floured board, roll about 1/8 of the dough at a time to a rectangle 1/8-inch thick. Cut dough into 2 1/2-inch squares. Place squares on lightly greased baking sheet. Place a scant teaspoon of filling on center of each square. With a sharp knife, cut a line from each corner to within 1/8-inch of filling. Lift alternate points, bringing to the center of the filling, making a pinwheel pattern. Bake above oven center in hot oven (400 degrees F), 8 to 9 minutes or until edges begin to brown. Remove to wire racks to cool. Makes 38 cookies.

Pineapple Shaped Cookies: Cut dough with a 2 1/2-inch round cutter. Place half the rounds on lightly greased baking sheet, about 1 1/2-inches apart. Place a teaspoon of filling in each center. Cut a tiny oval from center of remaining dough rounds. Place over filling, and press edges together with a fork. Make 5 little slits above the oval of each top round. Bake above oven center in hot oven (400 degrees F) 11 minutes.

Serve easy-to-fix treats

Stop worrying about how you're going to get through the holidays and take a good look at these special treats.

They all have a tempting appearance; they require practically no cooking; and ALL of them can be made ahead of time.

The Mandarin Ambrosia, for instance, looks elaborately festive and yet it can be whipped up in minutes. It is simply a fantastic combination of orange juice, Triple Sec and mandarin oranges poured over lavish scoops of Coconut Ice Cream.

The Teddy Bear Pie takes you back to your childhood with its peanut butter-graham cracker crust, its Chocolate Almond Ice Cream filling and its hot marshmallow topping. You can make the pie days ahead if you wish and pop it into the oven just before serving.

Are you having a Christmas Eve buffet, a trim-the-tree party or a holiday supper? Consider making the meal, itself, simple but finish off with a truly gooey dessert such as Christmas Buffet Brownies. You make the brownies from a mix, spread with peanut butter, cut in large squares and top with a scoop of Chocolate Fudge Ice Cream and a swirl of marshmallow cream.

If you're lucky it could even hold the family until dinner.

Mandarin Ambrosia
Literally glowing, these sundaes have a sunny orange sauce poured over lavish scoops of Coconut Ice Cream.

2 cans (11 ounces each) mandarin oranges, drained
1/2 can (6 ounce) frozen orange juice concentrate
2 tablespoons Triple Sec
1 quart Coconut Ice Cream
1/4 cup slivered almonds
6 candles

Stir drained oranges, 3 ounces undiluted orange juice and Triple Sec together. Chill for 2 hours or more. Place a scoop of ice cream in each of 6 sundaes dishes, spoon orange topping over each scoop. Sprinkle with almonds, top with a candle. Makes 6 servings.

Teddy Bear Pie
Chocolate Almond Ice Cream makes the deluxe filling for a pie crust of graham cracker crumbs and peanut butter. The hot marshmallow topping is a big surprise.

1 peanut butter-graham cracker pie crust, recipe follows

1 quart Chocolate Almond or Rocky Road Ice Cream
2 cups miniature marshmallows

Prepare pie crust according to directions that follow. Chill, freeze. When crust is frozen, slightly soften ice cream and spoon into frozen crust, pressing gently into crust, mounding in center. Quickly arrange marshmallows evenly on top of pie. Freeze for at least 2 hours. Just before serving, preheat broiler for 5 minutes. Place pie 4" from heat; and watching carefully, leave just until marshmallows puff and brown lightly. Cut in wedges, serve immediately. Makes 8 servings.

Peanut Butter-Graham Cracker Pie Crust: Prepare 1 1/2 cups of finely crushed graham cracker crumbs (about 10 double crackers). Mix with 3 tablespoons of sugar, blend in 1/4 cup peanut butter, add 1 1/2 tablespoons water, knead gently. Press into bottom and sides of a buttered 9" pie pan. Chill, freeze.

Banana Breakfast Nog
How do you keep them fed when they're too busy to eat? Whip up these nourishing nogs and let them drink their breakfast.

2 scoops Pralines'n Cream Ice Cream

1 cup milk
1 egg
1 banana cut in chunks
1/4 cup peanut butter
2 tablespoons wheat germ

Place all ingredients in blender container and blend until smooth. Makes 1 large serving.

Christmas Buffet Brownies
The brownies come from a mix, the ice cream is hand-packed and high quality. All you have to do is put them together with peanut butter and marshmallow cream.

1 package (22 ounces) brownies
3/4 cup chunky peanut butter
1/2 gallon Chocolate Fudge Ice Cream

1 jar (11 ounces) marshmallow cream topping
1/2 cup chopped peanuts
Bake brownies according to package directions in a 13" x 9" x 2" pan. Cool, chill. Spread peanut butter over brownies. Cut into 12 to 18 pieces. To serve, place brownie squares on plates; place a scoop of ice cream on each brownie; ladle on marshmallow topping; sprinkle with nuts. Makes 12 to 18 servings.

Mandarin Ambrosia, one of the most popular winning recipes in an Ice Cream Show-Off, has its own built-in flow via sunny orange sauce poured over rich scoops of coconut ice cream.

Sprinkle with almonds and garnish with a lighted Christmas candle. Eat ice cream from dawn to dinner. It's a delicious and nutritious food.

Low-cholesterol hors d'oeuvres are possible

Having a cocktail party for guests on a low-cholesterol diet? Recipes for tasty hors d'oeuvres are given in a cookbook prepared by the American Heart Association that are likely to appeal to almost everyone. There are also suggestions for serving them with a touch of elegance. Many of the recipes are low in calories.

One of the most interesting is for "Poor Man's Caviar." This makes a nutritious snack as well and has a mid-eastern flavor:

- 1 large eggplant
- 2 tablespoons olive oil
- 1 small onion, finely chopped
- 1 clove garlic, minced
- 1/4 cup raw green pepper, finely chopped
- 1 1/2 tablespoons lemon juice
- 1/2 teaspoon salt
- coarsely ground pepper

Slice eggplant in half and rub with 1 tablespoon of the oil. Place halves cut side down on baking pan. Broil on middle rack of oven for 20 to 25 minutes, or until eggplant is quite soft. Cool slightly and scoop out pulp. Mash well with fork.

Saute onion and garlic in remaining oil until brown. Stir into eggplant pulp with remaining ingredients. Add more salt if necessary. Chill for 2 or 3 hours. Sprinkle with chopped parsley and serve with bread rounds or toast.

A fresh fruit tray is always popular. Cut larger fruit into wedges or bite-size pieces: Pineapple, 1/2 cup. Strawberries, 1 cup. Grapes, 12. Prunes, 2 medium. Apples, 1 small. Pears, 1/2 small. Melon, 1/2 small cantaloupe. Kumquats, 4 small.

Another fruit dish, fruit kabobs is attractive looking and tastes delicious:

Combine several kinds several kinds of fresh melon balls in a marinade of dry white wine or lemon juice for a few hours. Alternate balls on tiny skewers. Serve garnished with fresh mint.

Many hostesses (and some of the more sophisticated restaurants) are now serving bowls of fresh raw vegetables. They are arranged in groups on a platter and served with a low-cholesterol dip.

A creamy cheese spread can be prepared with 1/2 cup of low-fat cottage cheese and 2 tablespoons of nonfat dry milk.

Put both into a blender until smooth, and then chill to thicken before using. Add 2 or 3 tablespoons of well-drained crushed pineapple, if you like, or 1 teaspoon of grated orange rind, 1 tablespoon of finely chopped parsley, or 1 teaspoon of chopped chives.

There is a wide selection of low-fat breads and crackers for use with spreads and dips.

For a pre-dinner drink, liquor mixed with plain water rather than a sweet cocktail is recommended, and better still is a glass of dry white or red wine.

Diet — which includes everything a person eats or drinks — is the first approach to lowering elevated cholesterol levels, and for many individuals diet is sufficient. Fortunately, there are many cookbooks available today containing recipes that "tempt the appetite, delight the eye and help make life interesting."

When diet is not sufficient, there are medications that a physician may prescribe as an adjunct to it. One of the newest and most convenient is Lorelco, in tablet form. It does not require any preparation such as mixing, and usually is taken only twice a day.

According to the American Heart Association, about 40 to 45 per cent of the American's average daily caloric intake is fat — nearly half the calories consumed. Cardiologists and other physicians are concerned about the American diet and would like to see a major change in eating habits, and a lowering of elevated cholesterol levels.

Making low-cholesterol food and drink attractive, and medication convenient, are viewed as one large step in the right direction.

Serve cheese snacks to start party right

Cheese hors d'oeuvres, appetizers or snacks ... whatever they're called get a party off to a good start. Cheese in its many forms, styles and flavors is the basic ingredient for all kinds of tasty tidbits. Perhaps its most outstanding quality is versatility. Most cheeses are delicious eaten as is. Many are appropriate in combination with other foods or as cooking ingredients. Natural cheeses — those made directly from milk — are readily available and keep well when properly stored in the refrigerator. They cover a whole range of colors, textures and flavors. The deli case in any market offers the consumer a wide selection of cheeses. It's easy to select the right variety for all purposes. With these convenient factors in mind, it's no wonder that fun and "fromage" always seem to go together.

Natural cheeses made here in California run the gamut from soft unripened varieties to pungent aged kinds. The "Italian type" cheeses alone — ricotta, mozzarella, provolone, parmesan and romano — represent a full range of textures, and tastes.

Camembert Appetizer Mold

- 4 ounces camembert cheese
- 1 cup grated monterey jack cheese
- 3/4 cup milk
- 1 cup dairy sour cream
- 1 envelope plain gelatin
- 1/2 cup minced celery
- 1/4 cup minced parsley
- 3/4 teaspoon marjoram, crumbled
- 1/8 teaspoon salt

Beat camembert, jack cheese and 1/4 cup milk until smooth. Beat in sour cream. Combine remaining 1/2 cup with gelatin. Stir over low heat until gelatin is dissolved. Stir into cheese mixture. Stir in celery, parsley, marjoram and salt. Spoon into 3-cup ring mold or other fancy mold. Chill until firm. Unmold onto plate. Makes 1 (3-cup) mold.

Speedy Mozzarella Snacks

- 4 slices bread
 - 1/4 pound mozzarella cheese
 - 1/4 cup butter
 - 2 anchovy filets, chopped
 - 1 tablespoon finely minced parsley
- Cut bread slices into thirds. Cut cheese into 12 equal pieces. Fold piece of bread around each piece of cheese. Secure with small wooden pick. Place on baking sheet. Bake in 450 degree oven 7 to 10 minutes or until cheese is softened and bread starts to brown. Meanwhile melt butter over low heat. Add anchovies and parsley. Simmer 2 minutes. Drizzle over sandwiches. Serve warm. Makes 1 dozen snacks.

Cheese and Pickle Hors D'oeuvres

- 3 tablespoons butter, softened
 - 3/4 cup grated monterey jack cheese
 - 1/2 cup flour
 - 1/4 teaspoon salt
 - 1/4 teaspoon dill weed
 - 8 midget dill pickles
- Beat butter with cheese. Mix in flour, salt and dill weed. Divide dough into 8 parts. Flatten each and wrap around a pickle, covering completely. Cut each into 3 pieces. Place pickle slices on baking sheet. Bake in 400 degree oven 15 minutes or until golden. If desired, decorate each with piped rosette of cream cheese thinned slightly with milk. Makes 2 dozen hors d'oeuvres.

Saddlewood

It's the great big lot that got me. Mine's more than a half acre — others are even bigger. I have that wide open country feeling here and yet, I'm less than two minutes from the Pomona Freeway to Orange County. I've got a boat and camper space behind the 3-car garage — (out of sight!) and we're starting the pool next week. There's plenty of value packed into this community!

Beautiful quality — that's what I've got. Ceramic tile in the entry. In my kitchen, General Electric range and ovens, dishwasher, disposal and even a compact! The family room is great with the fireplace, family breakfast bar and all the big outdoors shows through the wide glass sliding doors. And in the back, dad and the kids want a pool. I want a jacuzzi — there's room enough for just about anything! Another thing: the builder set up a guaranteed sale of our other home!

Now, I can have my horse, and he can have his big corral and stable. And we can ride out the back gate right into the super trail system, then all around to our own Saddlewood Equestrian Center. It's a great meeting place for friends. There's a training ring, washdown and a trailer turn-around when "Star" and I go to the horse shows.

If I'm not playing ball at the park or with my family barbecuing at Saddlewood's picnic grounds right next to the Equestrian Center, well, then I'm playing out back. Even with the horse, the camper, the boat and soon we'll add the pool there is more yard left than we had altogether at the old house all the kids love it!

We've Got it Together
